Changes Made In New Beer, Wine Rules

by MARK BENNO

The Antioch Village Board met on Monday night, and a revamping of the ordinance relative to beer and wine licenses for restaurants was approved.

At the committee meeting on Nov. 6, it was decided that beer and wine licenses should be issued to area restaurants under the following conditions. The owner of record where the restaurant is located should approve in writing the issuance of a beer and wine license, and sign the application along with the applicant.

The board changed the rule of transfer of licenses to the following: When a restaurant changes hands and a new license is required, that license will be double what the yearly rate previously was. After the first year, however, the license will return to its normal rate.

During the meeting Mayor Raymond Toft said, "It's not up to the village to make sure taverns have Dram Shop insurance." Antioch will not enforce Dram Shop insurance upon licensees, but Kenneth Clark, Antioch village attorney, thought it would be a good idea if the restaurant operators indicated whether they had the insurance for informational purposes.

According to the board, there should be a minimum seating capacity of 75 people in a restaurant requesting a license. Also, the beer and wine can only be served during the hours of 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

The restaurant must be the type of place that serves lunch and dinner with a full menu consisting of meat, poultry, fish, vegetables, and salads. In addition, the beer and wine can only be served at tables and booths, and there is no counter service of alcoholic beverages.

There is to be one service of alcohol per person prior to the food order being taken, with no limit after the food is taken. Absolutely no exterior advertising of alcoholic beverages will be allowed. Advertising within the building is acceptable.

Another important amendment to the ordinance involves alcohol servers. The ordinance originally read a dispenser of 21 years of age and a server of 21 years of age. On Monday night, however, the board changed the acceptable serving age to 19. Dispensers must still be 21, and the alcohol may only be served to those 21 and over.

Finally, the restaurants must obtain a Special Use Ordinance Amendment by petitioning the zoning board for such a change.

In other matters, the public works department revealed that 200 homes have been checked thus far for sump pump violations. There have been 25 violations so far. It was also stated that 300 homes have so far been inaccessible.

Movers And Shakers

These gentlemen had a lot to do with constructing the garden pathway which connects Main St. to a parking area. They are, from left to right, Bill Griffin, secretary of the Antioch Rotary Club; Reed Ano, Rotary treasurer; Gary Hardt of Paul Swartz Nursery (which helped with the plantings); and Ted Axton, vice-president of the Antioch Rotary. ## 0.5 Percent Hike Caps Contract Negotiations

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch High School teachers' contract for this and the next school year, giving the teachers a 7.5 percent salary raise this year and a 7 percent raise next year, has been OKed by both the teachers and the board.

With a strike pending for the next day, the main change in the contract status that brought an agreement between the two negotiations teams after a nine-hour meeting on Nov. 6, was the board's offer of 0.5 percent salary increase in addition to the 14 percent (over two years) that had already been offered.

Classes are back to normal, gone is the tension brought on by the strike threat.

As expected, at a meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 12, the Antioch High School teachers ratified with a raise of hands, the contract that had been tentatively agreed to by the negotiations teams.

On the heels of the teachers' ratification, the members of the high school board of education met the next day, on Thursday, Nov. 13, and approved the 1986-87, 1987-88 contract by a vote of 5-1.

Board member Charles Forester was absent, board member, Julie Portalski dissented, and President Robert Lindblad, and board members, Tom Fisher, Frank Walsh, Mike Zeihen and Glen Moore voted for approval of the 24 point contract.

Portalski's vote for disapproval was based on the fair share part of the agreement. She said she "could live with the rest of the contract" but not the part concerning all teachers paying union dues annually of $270, whether or not they choose to join the union.

According to the agreement, teachers not belonging to the union will receive a rebate at the end of the year after the cost of their representation is subtracted from the dues.

Lindblad estimated that about 80 percent of the dues is used for teacher representation.

Of the five major points of disagreement that kept the negotiations dragging on and on, the board made a statement of concern about class sizes; gave teachers $300 per semester if they volunteer to monitor the cafeteria for 25 minutes per school day when school is in session; consented to fair share; agreed to pay lay substitutes for a half hour each month for each of 10 Allendale teachers that choose to attend ACHS Teachers Union meetings.

The teachers claim that the main reason for their hold-out was a compatible complete package agreement. The board said it was the distance between the board's 14 percent two-year salary increase semi-final offer and the teachers' 17 percent semi-final request.

This was the point that the two sides were at when the crucial final negotiations meeting took place on Nov. 6. A strike called by the teachers was set for the next day, pending the outcome of the talks.

Learning Aerobics

These aerobics instructors from throughout the area gathered in Antioch on Saturday in the Tower Room to learn more about aerobics, and to receive certification tests. On the floor are Sue Dost and Maria Ericson, and in the back row are, from left to right, Dee Dee Horton, Katie Spees, Debbie Gelger, Brenda Jergensen, Patti Hansen, Janet Haisman, and Lynn Neuwirth.

Teachers Go To School For Aerobic Training

by MARK BENNO

The health and fitness craze in America has produced both positive and negative effects. The positive effects are, of course, healthier bodies and longer lives.

But there are increasing indications that all is not well in the fitness industry. The demand for physical fitness instructors, to accommodate the growing number of people who exercise, is tremendous. This demand has created a serious problem: underqualified personnel teaching other people fitness techniques.

The potential danger of such a situation is obvious. There are already numerous reports of both minor and serious injuries caused by improper instruction in the fitness industry. Not only do these underqualified teachers sometimes cause injury to fitness buffs, they can also begin and perpetuate bad training habits.

It was with this problem in mind that Katie Spees, manager of D.J.'s Fitness Center in Antioch, decided to host Aerobic Pipeline, a national aerobic certification program. Vicki Bretthauer, Aerobic Pipeline Dir., said, "The important thing is that people go to class to have fun and to become more physically fit—not to get hurt. It's important for our industry's reputation that the instructors be well informed."

The Aerobic Pipeline's goal is to create effective, safe classes for hundreds of thousands of aerobic participants across the nation by providing a concentrated extract of innovative techniques and injury prevention to aerobic instructors at an affordable fee. The Pipeline tries to utilize progressive techniques based on a continuously evolving program.

The staff at Aerobic Pipeline is composed of specialists in the medical, bio-medical, aerobic, and nutrition fields. These experts then continuously compile data about the aerobics industry, and how best to serve it.

Lecturers are then employed by Aerobics Pipeline to travel across the country to discuss the latest in the aerobics industry to aerobics instructors. Perhaps the Pipeline's most important function, however, is to test these teachers to see if they are properly qualified. If they are, Aerobics Pipeline issues them certification.

So it was a day in school for many northern Illinois aerobics teachers. Spees said, "D.J.'s went out of their way to get the Aerobic Pipeline." The instructors gathered at the Tower Room in Antioch on Saturday to listen to the lecture and take their tests.

Pipeline's visiting lecturer was Mike Dostrow, an independent health and fitness consultant. Dostrow has certified aerobics instructors across the country. Dostrow described his mission as, "teaching the instructors so they can modify their workouts accordingly."

Dostrow lectured from morning until night about many topics, including the latest in injury prevention, recognition and treatment of aerobic injuries, leadership skills, tips for pregnant women who exercise, nutrition and much more. At the end of the day the teachers took the certification test.

Spees said the test, "tells the public that their instructors are the most qualified, and that the certification means they studied hard and took courses."

The whole day wasn't spent in a chair, though, as Dostrow occasionally led the approximately 40 instructors in aerobics routines. Dostrow emphasized to the instructors that the constant jumping up and down found in many exercise routines is dangerous, and can lead to serious injuries in the knee and leg.

"The industry has changed," commented Spees. "There are a lot of injuries and misbeliefs. The main method of exercise should be to train, not strain." Efforts like the Aerobic Pipeline, which use the accumulated knowledge of industry experts, should go a long way in solving injuries that never should have happened.

Serious Riders

The Cancer Bike-A-Thon raised a lot of money, and the top three money raisers were honored by the gift of three donated bikes. Participating in the ceremony were Jim Bischoff of the Antioch Fire Dept.; Tom Hudd, the top money raiser; Janet Stein of First National Bank of Antioch, which donated one of the bicycles; Rich Hudd, the second place money raiser; Wally Jaskowski, of the State Bank of Antioch, which donated another bike; and Sam Barnes, the third place money raiser. Strang Funeral Home donated the third bike.

Dist. 34 Offers Special Student Screening Program

All children are entitled to a free and appropriate public education. Consistent with this philosophy and Article XIV of the School Code of Illinois, Antioch Community Consolidated School Dist. 34 provides a large number of special education services for exceptional children.

Exceptional children are those who may exhibit handicapping characteristics in the area(s) of physical disability, social or emotional development, specific learning disabilities, retarded intellectual development, and/or speech defects and language development.

Special education instructional programs and supportive services, including diagnostic services, are available to exceptional children who are between the ages of three and 21, and who are enrolled in the local school district. Depending upon the nature and severity of the educational need, programs are either provided by the Special Education Dist. of Lake County or at the local level.

Annual screening will be conducted by the district to identify handicapped students. The screening will include, but not be limited to: identifying those who may need special education; hearing and vision screening; speech and language screening; and identification of those children who exhibit problems which interfere with their educational progress and their adjustment to the educational setting.

When a child is identified through the screening process, the child will be referred for a case study evaluation. Referrals may be made by school district personnel, the parents of the child, community service agencies, persons having primary care and custody of the child, other professional persons having knowledge of the child's problems, the child, or the State Dept. of Education.

Any Dist. 34 parent who has questions or concerns relevant to the development of their child may request an evaluation by calling the principal or superintendent of the school the child attends.

The numbers where some of these officials can be reached are Donald Skidmore, Dist. 34 Supt., (312) 395-0712; Bill Herbst, Principal of Antioch Upper Grade, 395-1905; Walter Soderman, Principal of Oakland School, 395-1730; Harlan Ware, Principal of Antioch Grade School, 395-0845; and Paul Hain, Principal of W.C. Petty School, 395-1440.

After the evaluation, a parent conference will be held to discuss the results and to determine what further action, if any, is required.

Church To Install Pastor

The Rev. Ronald Ayers will be installed as Senior Pastor of the Antioch Evangelical Free Church at a service on Sunday, Nov. 23.

Participating in the 6 p.m. service will be the Rev. Wesley Johnson, Great Lakes Supt. of the Evangelical Free Churches of America, who will give the charge to the pastor and congregation. The Rev. Edwin Schupback, Pastor of Faith Evangelical Free Church in Lindenhurst, will deliver the prayer of installation.

Ayers, age 53, comes to Antioch following a six-year tenure at the Evangelical Free Church of Rapid City, S.D. Previously he had also been in the pastorate at the Cut Bank Evangelical Free Church in Montana.

Ayers was educated at Bob Jones University, and his wife Doris attended Illinois State University at Normal. Both are natives of central Illinois. The couple has three adult children residing in various areas of the country.

Others participating in the service include Steven Sward, Youth Pastor; Michael Warren, Chairman of the Church; and Dr. Adrian Spronk, Chairman of the Deacon Board.

The adult sanctuary choir, directed by Gene Glas, will present two selections. A reception will follow immediately after the service in Fosmark Hall.

New Pastor

The Rev. Ronald Ayers will be installed as the Senior Pastor of Antioch Evangelical Free Church on Sunday, Nov. 23. Ayers comes to Antioch from the Evangelical Free Church in Rapid City, S.D.

Four CLC Students To Join London Program

Four students from the College of Lake County (CLC) will participate in CLC's first London Study Program during the 1987 spring semester. The program, sponsored by the Illinois Consortium Homemade baked goods will also be for sale during the four-day event. Entrance to the festival is free and open to the public.

for International Studies, presents CLC students with their first opportunity to spend a semester studying abroad. The consortium is composed of Illinois State University and several community colleges.

Jackie Bjork of Gurnee, Cindy Suttie of Zion, Jessica Drukanis of Lake Villa and Shawn Kelley of Waukegan will represent CLC in London from Jan. 9 through April 25.

John Lumber, associate dean of CLC's Social Science Div. and coordinator of the London Study Program at CLC, says he is pleased with the response to the trip. "The consortium originally intended to limit enrollment to 45 students," says Lumber. "Due to the great response, the consortium has raised enrollment to accommodate 60 students. We are especially happy to have four CLC students participating."

The students, under the guidance of faculty members from participating institutions, will study history, economics, literature, humanities and art, and will participate in field trips to Parliament, the British Museum and other cultural and government centers. Ken Simonsen, an instructor in CLC's Communication Arts Div. was selected as a faculty representative from CLC.

"This will be my first trip to Europe," says Jackie Bjork, a sophomore from CLC. "I'm a little nervous about spending four months away from home, but it will be a great opportunity to see how other people live and to gain an appreciation for art, architecture and the humanities."

Suttie, who was a foreign exchange student in Costa Rica while at Zion Benton High School, is looking forward to meeting new people in another part of the world. "Some students will just hang around with one person all the time," she says. "Not me, I want to meet everybody!"

There is still time to register for the spring semester London Study Program. The cost for the four months is estimated at $4,700 and includes tuition, lodging, selected meals, program excursions and air fare. For the summer semester students have two opportunities to study in London. A one month-long session begins June 8, another begins July 9, or students may enroll for the full two-month session. ## Add Christmas Magic To Holiday Craft Show Something brand spanking new and exciting in magic is mingled with the classic old age illusions by magician, David Seebach, at the Holiday Craft and Gift Show, Nov. 28, 29 and 30 at Wisconsin State Fair Park, 8100 W. Greenfield Ave., Milwaukee.

"I've coordinated a premiere magic act, the 'Christmas Chalet' that utilizes a pretty assistant and several animals; never performed anywhere else; but especially designed for presentation at the Holiday Show," said Seebach.

His themes center around Christmas motifs, with floating basketball size ornaments, flowing silk scarves, magic hats complete with rabbits and candy cane levitation. Milwaukee can be proud of resident Magician Seebach, who has won many awards during his professional career: "Best of the Best" and Excellence in Magic."

Bring the family and participate in the Christmas magic performances on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 28 and 29 at 11 a.m., 1, 3, and 7 p.m.; and Sunday, Nov. 30, at 1 and 3 p.m.

Highlight Cook Victorian Christmas

It is one thing to tell someone what Christmas was like 100 years ago, but it is far more enjoyable to actually see it and that is what visitors will have an opportunity to do on two weekends in December.

For the 14th consecutive year on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 6 and 7, and again on the 13th and 14th, the Ansel B. Cook home, 413 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville will be open to the public for the annual Victorian Christmas.

Hours for touring the home will be 1 to 5 p.m. on all four days.

From the moment visitors enter the huge front door of the house, built in 1878, they will almost literally step back more than 100 years in time.

Completely furnished as it was in the late 1800's, the house at this time of the year is especially colorful. The ornate railing on the stairway leading to the second floor is adorned with holly and garland. Holiday knick knacks from bygone years decorate the mantels on several fireplaces.

Entering the front parlor, visitors will see a Christmas tree of yesteryear, covered with candles, antique handmade ornaments and draped with popcorn garland.

In the second parlor an old fashioned pump organ will come back to life again when it is played by members of the Libertyville High School music dept. Christmas carols also will be sung by the group.

The dining room, with a table set for four people, will feature some of the added touches the Cook family probably felt were appropriate for the holiday. Glassware, silverware, fine China and napkins, with old time silver rings holding them in place, seem to patiently wait for the Christmas feast to begin.

A large collection of pots, pans and cooking utensils stand like sentries, guarding the wood burning stove in the kitchen. All the ingredients for making cookies cover the antique table in this room, just as they did when the Cook family lived in the house.

On the second floor, visitors will see the bedrooms, plus period clothing, toys and hundreds of other items commonly in use during the Victorian days.

Photographs of events in Libertyville many years ago cover the walls in the hallway and in Ansel Cook's study; shaving mugs of former local residents rest on a shelf next to numerous old books.

The Cook home is maintained year-round and decorated for the Victorian Christmas by the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society. Members of this society will be present at the four-day celebration to act as tour guides.

There is no charge for touring the house. However, visitors are asked to donate one dollar to help defray the cost of preserving this priceless part of Libertyville's heritage.

Big Game

Mammoth Cave, Kentucky's immense series of underground caverns formed by the action of ground water on limestone formations, was reportedly discovered by a hunter in 1799.

Rehearse Handel

A sure indication that the Christmas season is approaching is the fact that rehearsals start for the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

The rehearsals have started and are being held at the United Methodist Church of Antioch from 2 to 4 p.m. on all Sundays in November. Everyone is invited to participate. For those who do not have a copy of the music, it will be available on loan.

There will again be two performances of the "Messiah." The first will be on Dec. 5 at St. Peter's Church in Antioch, and the second at Hawthorn Center in Vernon Hills on Dec. 7. Ralph Brooke will serve as the rehearsal conductor, with Dr. Lynn Schornick conducting the chorus and orchestra in the actual performance.

It is not necessary to attend all rehearsals, but there are only two left in the month of November. United Methodist church has convenient parking, and refreshments will be served.

High Flyer II

The koala bear, which dines exclusively on eucalyptus leaves, may spend several weeks in a single tree. Eucalyptus acts as a narcotic to the koala's system, so the little bear spends its entire life "high." That may explain why it has the patience to spend several weeks in the same tree.

Stamp Collectors To Meet

The Lake County Philatelic Society will meet at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 25 at the Belvidere Recreation Center in Waukegan. George Balfe will be the guest speaker. Visitors are always welcome. For further information, call (312) 623-0648.

Smockers Set Open House

Smart Smockers, the north suburban chapter of the Smocking Arts Guild of America (SAGA), will have an open house at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 25, at the Fremont Library, 470 N. Lake St., Mundelein. All interested smockers are welcome to attend. Smart Smockers meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month to share an interest in smocking and related needle arts. For further information, contact Priscilla Maves at (312) 398-2366 or Rita Fenters at (312) 356-1902.

Right To Life Hosts Teen Night

Lake County Right To Life Education Fund will host "Illinois Teens For Life" at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 24 at the Fremont Library, 470 N. Lake St., Mundelein. The presentation, especially geared for junior and senior high students, will discuss their group, peer counseling, and will include a showing of the film "No Alibis." For further information, contact Karen O'Sullivan at (312) 546-9639 or Kathy Soucie, (312) 356-2874.

Le-To-He To Gather Clothing

The Camp Fire Girls and Boys of the Lake County area will be doing an Indian service project of collecting coats, gloves, scarves, and outerware of any type, to donate to the Blackfoot, Sioux and Cheyenne tribes of North Dakota.

The reason for this project is the extreme cold weather. The clothing will be shipped to the tribes shortly after Nov. 21. For more information, call (312) 356-1201.

Christmas Cheer Rises Above Nasty Weather

Notes & News

"Tis the season to be jolly, fa-la-la-la-la-la-la-la." Since Mother Nature put us in the "deep freeze" this past week, it wasn't hard to get in the Christmas mood, except for the fact that winter is over thirty days away.

Despite the bitter cold weather, the students of Antioch Grade School took time from their studies last week to commemorate Veteran's Day with an outdoor ceremony and flag-raising followed by a spirited rendition of "America" by the Intermediate Band and student body. Do you suppose the weather had anything to do with that?

Do you know the words to the "Star-Spangled Banner"? What about other patriotic songs? Antioch Grade School students do, because of the efforts of school librarian Aileen Biel. Each school day starts with a different student reciting the Pledge to the Flag over the loud speaker system, and a patriotic song follows. Says Biel, "During the Iranian hostage crisis, I realized how few persons actually knew the words to our national anthem and other patriotic songs. I decided at that time to try to do something about that." Thanks, Aileen.

Wasn't it nice that the first snowfall of the year came on a school holiday?

Speaking of firsts--The first performance of PM&L's "Bell, Book and Candle" will be 8 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 21.

The sixth annual Gingerbread House Christmas Bazaar will open its doors for the first time 9 a.m. Friday, Nov. 21 at the Antioch Scout House, 741 Main St. Bring your bank account; they always have such wonderful handmade items to buy! Eleven members of Antioch Boy Scout Troop 92 "primed the pump" literally. Actually they primed and painted 97 fire hydrants in Lindenhurst. (They pump water from there, don't they?) The work was part of the requirement that helped troop member David Weston attain Eagle Scout rank. Joining Weston on the painting detail were John Theilen, Dave Buri, Steve Goetzelman, Gene Brown, Gene Polec, Dave Stachel, Jim Benedict, Brian Paschke, Andy Reeves, and Daniel Weston. The Lindenhurst Village Board donated $100 to the troop for the great service rendered.

Antioch Evangelical Free Church will install Pastor Ron Ayers on Sunday, Nov. 23. Pastor Ayers and his wife, Doris, come to Antioch from Rapid City, S.D., but are natives of Central Illinois.

Tips For Quitters On The Great American Smokeout

by CINDY KUJAK

Well, it's here--the 10th anniversary of the Great American Smokeout. I have great admiration for anyone who decides to take on the challenge of getting through the day without lighting up.

It's important to have lots of support, and that's why the American Cancer Society's (ACS) Adopt-A-Smoker program is so fantastic. Here's how non-smokers can get involved in the Smokeout. Just stick with a friend or loved one throughout the day and give that person "veggie" or fruit snacks and lots of support.

It's a great day for smokers to begin trying to "kick the habit" because there are millions of people trying to do the same thing. If they realize they can get through one day without a cigarette, they probably will find they can quit for good if they just take it one day at a time.

Surveys show that "cold turkey" works better than trying to taper off gradually, and I've also heard that it's much easier to quit if you join some sort of program. The American Cancer Society and other organizations have such programs. Call your local office--it should be listed in the phone directory.

Here are some tips from the ACS for all you brave souls who are going to "go for it." I just know you can do it!

--Throw out all cigarettes by breaking them in half and wetting them down. Clean out all ashtrays in your home, office or car and put them away. Discard matches; hide lighters, or give them away.

--When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath. Hold it a second, then release it very, very slowly. Taking deep, rhythmic breaths is similar to smoking, only you'll inhale clean air, not poisonous gases.

--Exercise to help relieve tension. Climb stairs rather than take the elevator, park the car a block or two from your destination and walk the rest of the way. At home, practice touching your toes, jog in place, do jumping jacks.

--When tempted to reach for a cigarette, think of a negative image about smoking. Select your worst memory connected with the habit--the time you burned a hole in your suit or when you were left completely breathless running for a bus that pulled away. Imagine this experience for 15 seconds whenever the urge occurs.

--Reward yourself with oral substitutes in the same way you have used cigarettes. Good examples: sugarless gum, lemon drops, pumpkin or sunflower seeds, apple slices, carrot sticks, unbuttered popcorn and stick cinnamon.

--Eat three or more small meals. This maintains constant blood sugar levels, thus helping to prevent urges to smoke. Avoid sugar-laden foods and spicy items that can trigger a desire for cigarettes.

--Scramble up your day and change habits connected with smoking. Drive a different route to work; eat lunch in a new place; leave the "scene of an urge." At home, avoid your "smoking chair" after dinner, reach for gum rather than a cigarette when answering the phone.

--Cleanse your body of nicotine. Drink liquids, lots of them. Water (six to eight glasses a day), herbal teas, fruit juices and caffeine-free soft drinks all fit the bill. Pass up coffee, caffeinated soft drinks and alcohol, as they can increase your urge to smoke.

--Keep your hands and mind busy. Work a crossword puzzle, knit a sweater, balance your checkbook, fix something around the house, shampoo the dog.

Hope these tips help.

Another thing to consider if you're into fitness--it just doesn't make sense to smoke after eating the right foods and doing all those exercises to improve your health. So do the logical thing for your body--stop smoking.

Santa's Coming To Town In Enchanting Style

Larry Hanson, President of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, is looking forward to this Christmas. "The chamber is anticipating one of the biggest and most exciting Christmases for Antioch."

This year is the premier unveiling of the chamber's all new Santa's Enchanted Castle. Many hours of hard work have gone into constructing the castle, and the number of children expected to enjoy it this year should justify the labor.

The third annual Christmas Parade will kick off the celebrations surrounding the new castle. The parade begins at 10 a.m. on Nov. 29, and Hanson is sure there will be a large turnout.

Hanson asks that Antioch residents support the chamber businesses of Antioch and the surrounding area that donated time and money to make this year's Christmas Castle and Parade the best in village memory.

Meeting

The main change that took place at that meeting, which brought a settlement after nine hours of wheeling and dealing, came when the board went up 0.5, from a 7 percent to 7.5 percent salary increase for the present school year.

Teachers that are paid additional salaries for coaching, etc., will receive the same percentage increase in their pay for those duties.

Before the new pay scale was approved, the average pay for an ACHS teacher was $2,000 per year above the state average.

Student Joins Sorority

County Buses Wheelchair Ready

Buses in Waukegan and northern Lake County were equipped with lifts starting Monday, Nov. 17, announced Florence Boone, chairman of Pace, the suburban bus service.

As part of a pilot program, buses operated by Pace's North Division will be lift-equipped in order to make them accessible to wheelchair users and persons who have other physical disabilities. The North Division system, which covers 19 communities in northeastern and north-central Lake County, will be the first fully-accessible bus system in the Chicago area.

"We are pleased to be undertaking this important project," Boone said. "By making all of our buses in the North Division accessible, our system now can be used by everyone, including members of the disabled community."

In order to make the North Division fleet accessible, Pace purchased 20 new lift-equipped buses from the Gillig Corp., Hayward, Calif. The Regional Transportation Authority supplied $2.4 million in funds for the purchase, with another $600,000 coming from the Illinois Dept. of Transportation.

The 35-foot Gillig buses, painted in the new Pace colors, are equipped with a hydraulic lift manufactured by Environmental Equipment Corp., San Leandro, Calif. Each bus has room for three wheelchairs and 27 seats. If the wheelchair positions are not in use, the bus can seat 36.

In addition to the lifts, the buses also "kneel"—the front steps can be lowered about eight inches to make boarding the bus easier.

The new buses, which will replace aging GMCs, feature improved heating, air conditioning and lighting to make them more comfortable.

"This innovative demonstration program will be a service for Waukegan and all of north-central Lake County," said Richard Welton, the member of the Pace Board of Directors from Lake County. "The new buses will benefit both the disabled community and our other riders."

Pace phased in the program starting Nov. 17, when four routes became fully accessible. Those routes are:

—Rte. 562, Gurnee (Blue Route), serving downtown Waukegan, Victory Memorial Hospital and Gurnee.

—Rte. 565, Grand Ave. (Pink Route), serving downtown Waukegan, Waukegan Metra/C&NW commuter train station, Gurnee and

—Rte. 569, Lewis (Green Route), serving Glen Flora Shopping Center, Belvidere Mall, North Chicago High School and the North Chicago VA Hospital.

—Rte. 573, Lake Villa College of Lake County (Yellow Route), serving CLC, Lake Villa, Venetian Village and Grandwood Park.

The entire system is expected to be fully accessible in early 1987.

As suggested by Pace's Lift Advisory Committee, all North Division routes will be color-coded to make it easier for passengers to identify routes. Buses will carry a colored marker in the front windshield.

As part of the preparation, drivers for Pace's North Division have received special training in working with the disabled. One of the reasons that the North Division was selected for the project was because of the experience of the drivers in that area.

"This project represents an important step for Pace and mass transit throughout the entire region," Boone said. "We think the information and experience gained from this project will be useful for all transit agencies in the Upper Midwest."

Democrats Dominate County Clerk's Office

by JOHN STEINKE

The Lake County Democrats have monopolized the county clerk's office for the last 16 years. They have won the clerk's position in five consecutive elections. Three of the Democratic victories were by narrow margins. In 1970, area voters elected a Democrat to a county office for the first time in 36 years. Grace Mary Stern of Highland Park became only the third Democrat elected to Lake County office since the Civil War. Until 1970, only one Democrat sheriff (1890) and one Democratic county clerk (1934) had broken the GOP reign over the county offices.

Mrs. Stern defeated incumbent Republican clerk, Truman Gerretsen, by 904 votes out of 92,974 cast in the election. Stern achieved her victory by only carrying five of Lake County's 18 townships. Her election was shaped in the traditionally Democratic townships of Waukegan and Deerfield (her home base.) Stern defeated her Republican opponent by 9,416 votes in these two townships. She also captured Benton (50.9 percent), Fremont (51.1 percent) and Warren (55.9 percent) Twps. Stern lost Libertyville Twp. by only 10 votes out of 6,960 recorded in the contest.

Twice, Grace Mary Stern was re-elected to office with over 60 percent of the vote in 1974 and 1978. Four years ago, Stern vacated the clerk's position to run for lieutenant governor with the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Mrs. Stern supported Democrat Linda Hess of Highland Park as her successor. Hess was billed as being cut from the same cloth as Grace Mary Stern. In 1982, Hess defeated Republican Harry Thomas of Libertyville by 353 votes out of 110,187 votes cast in the race.

Hess' win replicated Stern's 1970 victory. She only carried six of the county's 18 townships. Hess captured the Deerfield-Waukegan Twps. by 9,301 ballots. The Democratic aspirant also won Avon (51.9 percent), Benton (51.9 percent), Lake Villa (50.7 percent), and Zion (55.2 percent) Twps. She only lost Fremont Twp. by 20 votes out of 3,218 recorded in the contest.

This year, Democratic incumbent Linda Hess was re-elected over Republican challenger Donna-Mae Litwiler of Ingleside by 2,746 ballots out of 96,954 registered in the election. Once again, Hess' win was produced in the traditionally Democratic townships of Waukegan and Deerfield. She defeated Litwiler by 8,490 votes in these two townships. Hess again captured Avon (54.9 percent), Benton (52.9 percent), Lake Villa (51.3 percent), and Zion (54.2 percent) Twps. Hess also won two townships that she lost four years ago: Newport (51.0 percent) and Warren (53.6 percent). Linda Hess switched her residency from Deerfield to Warren Twp. during her first term in office. She lost Libertyville Twp. by only 37 votes out of 8,813 registered in the race. The election data confirms that these three Democratic wins were produced in the Deerfield-Waukegan Twps.

Here are the election results in Lake County's 18 townships for the 1986 election for county clerk:

Businesses Can Apply For Grants

Illinois Industries engineering consultants engineering contractor firms and private or public research institutions are now eligible to apply for a $10,000 grant as part of the state's matching grant program.

The "Recycling, Reduction and Treatment (RRT) Technical Demonstration Program" awards will be made to applicants for developing new technologies or testing new applications of existing methods for recycling, reducing or treating hazardous wastes.

The matching grants are being administered by the Illinois Hazardous Waste Research and Information Center (HWRIC), a part of the Department of Energy and Natural Resources.

In addition to encouraging innovations and reducing hazardous waste generation, the grants could ultimately save Illinois industries millions of dollars by reducing costs associated with hazardous waste disposal.

"We are looking for technologies with high potential for transferring basic research or lab studies into the pilot demonstration phase, with the ultimate intention being to achieve commercialization," said HWRIC Industrial and Technical Assistance Coordinator, Fredrick L. Doll.

The program's ultimate goal, according to HWRIC Director David L. Thomas, is to encourage industry to explore ways of reducing the amount and toxicity of the wastes they are generating.

Eligible projects include those that: Concentrate hazardous wastes; Detoxify hazardous wastes; Reclaim hazardous wastes, on- or off-site; Recycle hazardous wastes, on- or off-site; Minimize the amount of hazardous waste generated through process modification or improved housekeeping. Achieve a high degree of innovation in hazardous waste treatment.

Projects limited to basic research or those proposing known or previously piloted technologies are not eligible.

HWRIC is soliciting proposals for the RRT grants through mailings to industries, consulting groups and research institutions. For more information or to receive a "request or proposal," call HWRIC AT (217) 333-8940.

Million Dollar Report Cards

Most residents have received the report cards on their children's schools by now. These report cards were mandated by the School Reform Act of 1985.

Millions of dollars in state funds were spent on school reform. Part of the package was supposed to include elections in each high school district to consolidate elementary districts and form unit districts or, at least, larger elementary districts.

The idea behind that proposal was to cut school costs while improving educational opportunities. Unfortunately, it was scuttled by Democratic Speaker of the Illinois House, Mike Madigan, and then candidate for governor, Adlai Stevenson.

In almost every case in which unit districts have been formed from dual districts (districts that operate independently of each other and are governed by different school boards), the result has been savings to local taxpayers and improvement in educational performance as reflected in standardized test scores. In Lake County alone, taxpayers who live in unit districts pay 50 cents less per hundred dollars of assessed valuation than those who live in dual districts. The homeowner who lives in a house with a market value of $70,000 and lives in a dual district pays, on average, $117 more per year in school taxes than someone who lives in the same value house in a unit district.

When this provision was scuttled, the state was left with a very embarrassing problem. Millions of dollars had been spent to set up committees all across the state for reorganization plans. Now those committees had nothing to do but go through the motions and file expense reports. Of course, they could have followed Stevenson's advice and reported back on what makes for quality education. But the last thing we needed was a bunch of blue-ribbon study groups spread across the state at a cost of millions with no coordination. Lake County's reorganization committee followed the same course that most others did after the law was gutted. It filed a report recommending that everything stay the same.

The report cards are the final result of the state's venture into school reform. The information they provide is scant, often confusing, and sometimes misleading. Most schools were already doing a better job with the annual reports they send to parents. But after spending millions of dollars on an aborted effort at school reform, Springfield had to have something to show for it.

Next time the legislature decides to improve efficiency in the schools, we hope it comes up with something a little more meaty than million-dollar report cards.

Smoking Them Out

Thursday, Nov. 20, is the 10th Great American Smokeout. Sponsored by the American Cancer Society, this annual event is credited with playing a major role in helping over 37 million Americans to quit smoking over the last decade.

Those of us in the newspaper business have the reputation of being a cynical, hard-drinking, heavy-smoking bunch. Well, that is the overblown romanticized version of television and the movies, anyway.

While we do not think any of our people here at Lakeland overdo the imbibing, there are a few who smoke like a chimney. With a little pressure from an editorial assistant, Cindy Kujak, who also happens to be a member of the Wisconsin branch of the American Cancer Society, one of our employees has agreed to participate in the smokeout.

Those who know managing editor, Charles

Johnston, know that he is seldom seen anywhere without one of his omnipresent cigarettes. At least for one day, this Thursday, he has promised to go without a smoke.

So keep your eyes open. If you see him on Thursday, make sure that he does not have a lit cigarette in his hand.

If he can stop for one day and then make a habit of it, we could all breathe easier around here.

How about the rest of you smokers out there? Did you know that your smoke hurts not only you, but those around you as well? Thus, those you love most, who are around you the most, suffer the most from your second-hand smoke.

Why not give it a go for just one day and give your family and friends a breath of fresh air? Who knows, you might decide that you like the smell of clean air yourself.

New View Of Politicians

One of the ironies of Campaign '86 is the fact that Adlai Stevenson is more stirring in defeat than he was in seeking a second chance from the voters of Illinois to be their governor.

Stevenson's many friends and supporters, without a doubt, will lament his pronouncement that the failure of 1986 was his last bid for elective office. We are inclined to view this as a wise decision. At the same time, though, we cannot help but be moved by some of his parting shots and the reflections of a man who gave his all for a belief in our political system.

After nearly a quarter of a century of being in the political limelight, Stevenson admits to being more comfortable with the old politics where character and ideas weighed more heavily than money and television charisma. We believe he is correct when he told a reporter the other day, "Politicians have become a form of entertainment in this country. You run for public office now as if you were part of a game show." The scion of the state's most famous political family sees himself as a politician better suited to the pre-electronic days when the message was the message.

Stevenson's thoughts are worth pondering. He may have lost the election, but he didn't lose respect.

Thompson On Both Sides of Stateline To Be Interesting

by BILL SCHROEDER

There may be more than a bit of confusion along the stateline come January when Tommy Thompson is installed governor of Wisconsin and Big Jim Thompson takes his oath for another term as governor of Illinois.

Motorists for one will be seeing double or, as it were, seeing themselves coming and going. Southbound: "Welcome to Illinois, Gov. Thompson." Northbound: "Welcome to Wisconsin, Gov. Thompson." Whoa!

No matter what side of the stateline, you'll be able to exclaim, "Blame it on Thompson," if you have a mind to complain about the way things are going in the state capitol.

In case you're wondering who Tommy Thompson is, suffice it to say that he's no Johnny-Come-Lately. Governor-Elect Thompson, 44, is a veteran of 20 years in the state assembly where he acquired a reputation for tough talk and hard driving. He comes from a one-horse town called Elroy located in rural central Wisconsin. He's a conservative, by heck, and he ran on a platform of "Pro-jobs, pro-growth, and pro-family." Tommy Thompson knocked off favored Democrat Gov. Anthony Earl to return the top job in Madison after a four-year hiatus.

Politically, Tommy Thompson is looked upon as a masterful politician. He started early, put together a good foundation and worked hard. Sounds like he and his namesake in Springfield have more than a surname in common. They should be able to work together. Maybe that's what the future governor of Wisconsin had in mind when he used orange and blue as a color combination for some of his campaign posters and wore an orange and blue tie to celebrate his election victory.

MAMMOTH STORE—Cozy it ain't. That's the way they're describing the new Cub Foods supermarket opened in Mundelein by Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton. The 60,000 square foot grocery emporium also has been described as "an airplane hanger with shelves." Cub Foods is designed to compete with every supermarket in Lake County. It will be an around-the-clock operation seven days a week. We're wondering if Mayor Welton will have time to attend village council meetings now?

STILL RUNNING—"No regrets," exclaims State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis in retrospect over her defeat by incumbent State Comptroller Roland W. Burris. "I had a good time, made a lot of friends and got acquainted all over the state," remarked Geo-Karis. Sounds like she might do it again. "The governor asked me to run and I did."

Geo-Karis didn't take a vacation after her Nov. 4 defeat. Too much business. She's in the middle of a four-year term and was in a good position to make a state-wide run against the popular Burris.

"I'll tell you one thing. If I had half of Judy Koehler's budget, the outcome might have been different," Adeline continued during a brief campaign post mortem. "She had over a $1 million budget." The Lake County Republican reported that her spending in the comptroller race totalled less than $150,000.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Bob and pop both are getting into training for the holidays. We're going on a diet. Now that football rigors are behind him, Bob has added 11 pounds. Pop is struggling with unnecessary poundage acquired since he isn't chasing the lawnmower anymore. With off-season weightlifting, Bob can turn the extra pounds into muscle to get ready for next season's linebacking duties. As for pop, well, it'll be "turn off the groceries" and hope for the best.

Letters To The Editor:

Citizens Setback?

Editor:

As the 12th Congressional District representative for the Citizens Utility Board (CUB), I'd like to report on a matter of concern to CUB members and consumers throughout the state.

As many people may already know, a group of the state's largest and most powerful utilities recently won a court fight to overturn the Illinois law that allowed CUB to insert membership literature in utility bills.

When the state Legislature created CUB in 1983, it set up the bill insert program as a way to give consumers a voice in expensive rate cases at no cost to ratepayers, taxpayers or utilities. And for over two years, those bill inserts did just that. More than 170,000 Illinois consumers joined CUB in response to the inserts, giving the organization the strength it needs to win historic victories in rate cases over utilities like Commonwealth Edison.

And that's exactly why the utilities launched a court battle to block the inserts. They hoped that by destroying CUB's main source of income, they would get CUB out of their hair and be able to return to "business as usual."

In the past two years CUB has made some significant inroads into those "business as usual" policies. We've won victories in rate cases and in the courts. We've achieved substantial reforms in utility laws and regulations. We've informed thousands of consumers about their rights as utility ratepayers and helped them with complaints and questions about their utility service.

But there are still big battles on the horizon. CUB is currently involved in eight major rate cases with many of the utilities that filed the law suit--utilities with unlimited resources (consumers' money) to argue their side of a case. CUB's resources, on the other hand, are limited to voluntary contributions from our members. And without the bill inserts, CUB's budget will be severely strained.

That's why in the coming weeks, we'll be asking state legislators to develop a new way for CUB to reach out to Illinois consumers and enable us to raise the necessary funds to continue our work. I urge consumers to contact their state legislators and ask them to support CUB's efforts.

The utilities won their court case, but they did not win their battle. CUB has survived thanks to the generous support of Illinois consumers. And with your continued support, that's one battle the utilities will never win.

Sincerely,
Ursula Eichhorn
CUB Representative
12th Congressional Dist.

Let People Speak

Editor:

There has been a charade going on in Room 202 of the County courthouse.

Since the middle of July the residents of Arbor Vista have been trying to be heard. The majority of the residents wish to de-annex from the Warren/Woodland School District to the Libertyville School District. However with the stall tactics of the opposition the Attorneys have only wasted time and money. This is your money--the money of the taxpayers of Lake County.

We, of the Arbor Vista Subdivision, are hardworking, caring persons. Not snobs, yuppies or whatever other label is to be attached to us. There are many empty-nesters very interested in this issue.

The question has been asked if we have tried to improve the present educational system. As a parent of former Warren students this we had been addressed years ago. Only to be told the school couldn't cater to all educational needs. What an answer!

The facts have been written and rewritten. 1-level of student achievement in Libertyville; 2-clear majority of residents in favor of the move; 3-taxes.

Please let's come to a speedy conclusion on this issue. Let the people be heard.

So, You Want To Be A Soldier?

by MARK BENNO

After I splattered my first enemy soldier with paint, I smiled nervously. His camouflaged head simply nodded up and down as he returned along the forest trail.

I quickly reloaded my paint gun in anticipation of a renewed attack. The woods were silent except for my breathing, which I was certain would give me away. No movement stirred in the bushes, and the sounds of battle were distant. I was to survive a few more minutes in the Survival Game.

Since war began people have searched for methods which re-create its drama and intensity, enjoying everything from board games to sports. I have yet to experience anything, however, that captures so completely the atmosphere of a battle in the trenches as the Survival Game.

Participants in the Survival Game showed up in rural Gurnee on Sunday morning to prepare for the games. The game site is a thickly wooded plot of land, with clearly marked boundaries, on Washington St.

Bill Clark of B.P. Sterling Promotions Inc., a dealer for the syndicated Survival Game, operates the Washington St. facility. He arrived on Sunday to both take part in the games himself and to instruct the competitors.

I must admit that before I played the Survival Game on Sunday, I knew very little about these types of games. I wasn't sure how dangerous it was, or how exciting it would be. After a long day in the trenches, the answer to both questions was clear: it's a relatively safe form of entertainment that causes your adrenaline to skyrocket.

Before the game began Clark told the gathering of would-be soldiers about the game and its rules. Each player is equipped with a gun which shoots little balls of colored paint. The paint is water soluble, and doesn't strike with much impact. When the paint strikes an opponent and splatters, however, he's dead and out for the rest of that game.

The object of the first set of games was to try to capture the enemy's flag, and in the process defend your own. I was one of the two "rookies" on the Green Team, and not quite sure what to do.

That dilemma was soon solved by the squad leader. He pointed my way and shouted "Follow me!" I quickly obliged, and was rushing headlong into I didn't know what. Our squad engaged the Red Team successfully, and their flag was captured none too gently.

It's amazing what a person will go through to avoid getting hit by paint. I threw myself against trees, crawled in the mud, got cut by bushes, and constantly bruised my legs. The spirit of battle was so prevalent, though, that I did all these things without thought or question.

The high emotional level of the day's activities did lead to occasional disputes. Tempers flared over questionable "hits," and frazzled nerves often gave way to shouts and protests. The game judges handled all problems, though, and the games proceeded without much delay.

Being a rookie, I was bound to make some bad judgment calls. At one point in the games I ran forward into enemy held territory and hid behind a tree. I expected help, but when I turned around I noticed that two of my Green Teammates were running to another battle. The Silver Team saw my predicament, and I soon looked like a bad Andy Warhol painting.

Sunday was the Tournament of Champions for the Washington St. club. It recognized the patronage of the regular customers, who play the Survival Game from April until November. Clark said February and March games are scheduled when the weather permits.

Only those 18 and older are allowed to play the Survival Game, and a signed release form is necessary. Shots to the head do not count in the Survival Game, an important safety measure.

Three teams generally constitute a regular game line-up. There's a Red, Green, and Silver team; one team rests while the other two play on the battlefield. The teams are constantly rotated, so even if you're ruled out for one game, you'll be back for another. Judges also roam the field during play to acknowledge hits and to make sure rules are followed.

Even though I knew the game was safe and really just a game, it brought to life combat situations. Team work was vital, and the thrill of stalking and flushing an opponent was real. It may be paint in that gun, but when you realize some camouflaged fellow is following your trail in the woods, it's either instant action or paint all over your back.

The games also provide a social function. Friends often participate together, and just like fishing, the tall stories of battle heroics come out later. As one soldier commented, "it's big boys playing soldier."

Clark wished to thank his staff for the work they did on Sunday, regulating and patrolling the games. It was a long day, with the Survival Game starting near sun-up and lasting after dark. And like any enterprise, those who wish to condemn it for one reason or another should first investigate, if not participate in, the Survival Game.

It was dark when I left the field on Sunday. My legs and back felt terrible, and my face was still covered with green paint. The camouflage outfit I had on was covered with paint, and even my fingernails hurt. But did I have fun? Yes.

The Common Deer Is Uncommonly Beautiful

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Deer are found all over the world. In fact there are about 40 different species. They can be found from the forests to the meadows.

the world is about a foot tall, weighing less than 20 pounds.

The caribou is built to travel and will go hundreds of miles south in the winter the female as well.

Deer usually stay in herds as it helps keep them safe from predators and is practical in caring for their young. To keep peace and help all to follow the rules, the male with the biggest antlers is the boss.

A doe usually gives birth every spring to one or two fawns. She will stay with her young for about a year.

For the first few weeks, the little fawn will stay hidden in the grass. It has very little scent and therefore is much safer if mother is not nearby. Mother helps him find food and protects him.

The fawn doesn't remain helpless long. In just a couple of weeks, he learns to run and jump.

So life goes on for the deer family. It is up to us to protect them and allow them to join us in this world.

Smithsonian Science

Frances Abbott, a Lake County special education teacher, and Mark Arthur (center), a third-grade teacher in Gurnee, were among 20 participants in 'Science Education Nationwide: A Workshop for Teachers and Museum Educators,' held at Abbott Laboratories on Saturday, Oct. 18. Richard Efthim (right), manager of the naturalist center at the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History, led the group in examining creative ways to use natural history objects, cultural artifacts, and museum exhibits to teach about science. The program was part of a five-day series of lectures, seminars and workshops conducted by the Smithsonian in Lake County. Sponsors included Abbott, the Chicago Medical School, Lake Forest College, and the College of Lake County as well as Sigma Xi organizations at the first three institutions. Abbott is a Libertyville resident and Arthur lives in Wadsworth.

Pet- Wise

Deer are great athletes. Their legs are packed with muscles. They are strong, fast and most graceful.

The deer can leap streams 35 feet wide and jump fences 10 feet tall. It can reach speeds of up to 45 miles per hour.

On its foot, the deer has four toes instead of the two most people believe. The hoof is covered by extra tough, thick toenail. He runs on his tip toes to get tremendous speed.

Speed is needed to outrun animals that hunt deer, such as tigers, cougars, wolves, coyotes and others.

Few deer live past the age of five years. They also have a difficult time finding food in the winter. Without all these problems, the deer could live up to 20 years. But this is nature's way of keeping the number of deer at a balance.

Larger deer usually live in the colder climates and the smaller deer in warmer places.

Some deer have big antlers, some have small and others, none at all. The antlers vary according to species.

All these different factors determine where the deer lives.

The largest deer is the North American Moose. It is eight feet tall and weighs nearly a ton. The smallest in from the far north, then return in the spring. Its body is strong and sturdy.

Reindeer really do live near the North Pole. Often people use them to pull sleighs, just like in "The Night Before Christmas."

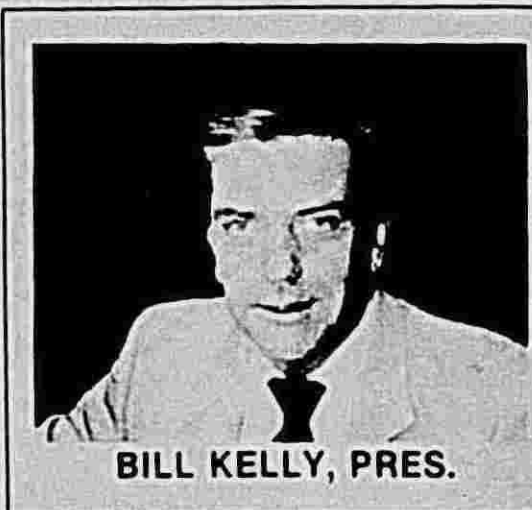

All deer are vegetarians. Most of the leaves, stems and grass they eat are very tough and hard to digest. The animal has a very special stomach with a most unusual digestive system.

Feeding time is dangerous for deer as they become easy targets for predators. They hurry to gulp down as much food as the first chamber in their stomachs will hold. Then when they get to a safe place, they return the food to the mouth to chew slowly and swallow it again. There are four chambers in the stomach of the deer, all needed to eat and digest his food.

The deer is the only animal with antlers. These break off every year at the skull and new ones grow. Antlers are very different from horns, which remain attached to the skull of a particular animal for life.

A bull moose may have antlers on his head that weigh 80 pounds. The advantage of a good looking pair of antlers outweigh the trouble it takes to grow them. Not only are they useful in fights with other bulls, but it attracts

Poultry Sauces--To Add That Special Touch

I guess I was lazy when I bought the large, ready-to-cook chicken cordon bleu--those fancy roulades with ham and cheese--at the Italian specialty store.

Usually I save money and prepare my own. But believe me, it was a bargain. I just dusted them in flour, dipped the three in egg, rolled them in Italian-style bread crumbs, browned the suckers in butter and oil, then baked them for 24 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

I wasn't lazy about the sauce. Guess which one I made.

Water Chestnut Sauce

3 tbsp. butter
3 tbsp. all-purpose flour
1 1/4 cups chicken broth

1 cup evaporated milk
1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas, cooked and drained
1 can (8 oz.) sliced water chestnuts
1/2 tsp salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper

In medium saucepan melt butter on low heat and blend in flour. Gradually add broth and milk, stir in peas and chestnuts. Add salt and pepper; stir until thickened on medium high heat. Serve over 8-10 medium chicken roulades.

Almond Sauce

2 tbsp. butter
1/4 cup sliced almonds, crushed
2 tbsp. all-purpose flour
1 cup chicken broth
1/4 tsp. salt
Pinch each, black pepper and mace

Cigarette-Induced Fires

Fires caused by cigarettes kill more than 2,300 men, women and children each year in the U.S. And each year, an additional 5,000 victims are burned in cigarette-induced fires.

1/4 tsp. grated lemon peel
1/2 tsp. lemon juice
2 tbsp. heavy cream

Pilot Light

In small saucepan, heat butter and saute nuts until golden, frequently stirring; remove from heat. Add flour and stir until smooth; gradually add broth, stirring. Bring to boil on medium heat, stirring constantly; reduce heat to medium low, and simmer three minutes and remove from heat. Add remaining ingredients and bring just to boiling, occasionally stirring. Yields 1 1/2 cups. Serve over roasted chicken, turkey or duck.

Craft work by residents, other handmade articles, baked goods and Christmas decorations will be for sale. A food booth with homemade lasagna, salads and desserts will also be featured. Proceeds will be used for the development of activity programs at Mt. St. Joseph.

Regional Aging Agency Holds Annual Meeting

Representatives of Lake County met with approximately 150 other advocates for the elderly at the Annual Meeting of the Region Two Area Agency on Aging, held on Friday, Nov. 7, in Naperville. The featured speaker was K.G. Engelhardt, the co-director and senior research scientist of the Health and Human Robotics Laboratory at the Robotics Institute, Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh.

Elber M. Maiden, of Mundelein, was elected first vice chairman of the agency's board of directors. The board also honored Maiden for his services as chairman in 1986. Maiden has represented Lake County on the board since 1982. Another Lake County resident, Alon Jeffrey of Grayslake, was elected to another term on the board. Jeffrey has been a member of the board since 1984, and previously had served on the agency's advisory council.

Evelyn A. Meyer of Park City was appointed as a Lake County representative on the advisory council. She is a registered nurse, now retired after a career as the director of nursing in a long-term care institution, and as a licensed nursing home administrator. The board also re-appointed Eleanor Krawietz of Waukegan for a three-year term on the council.

Louis S. Palka, Sr. of Mundelein, a retiring member of the advisory council, was honored for his two years of service as a Lake County representative on the council.

Region Two Area Agency on Aging is responsible for developing and coordinating a network of services for older persons throughout an eight-county area in northeastern Illinois. The agency informs and advises public and private agencies and the general public on the needs of older persons in the region, and acts on their behalf. The region consists of DuPage, Grundy, Kane, Kankakee, Kendall, Lake, McHenry and Will Counties.

Brides Prefer Roses

A survey of retail florists found that today's brides are choosing roses as the reigning blooms in their bouquets, in a resurgence of formal weddings with all the trimmings.

But these brides are combining an old-world tradition with their personal signatures by replacing classic white roses with blooms ranging from yellow to lavender hues.

Yellow roses, the traditional symbol of joy and gladness, are popular with spring brides, particularly for morning or midafternoon weddings.

Although many brides prefer to carry nosegays of yellow rosebuds, others are opting for wicker baskets brimming with blooms and trimmed with delicate ribbons.

Pink roses also bring a delicate touch to weddings, with their symbolism of grace and gentility. Florists report that pink roses are especially popular with brides whose fashion themes include taffeta gowns and dainty lace gloves.

Sweet-smelling lavender roses go well with both old-fashioned lace and sophisticated silk wedding gowns. Because lavender roses have perfume-like scents, many brides trim veils and headpieces with the blooms for a fragrant touch.

Other trends in "new tradition" wedding roses include:

-coral and orange roses mixed with autumn greenery for September and October weddings;

-red and white roses combined in a single nosegay to represent unity;

-an armful of long-stemmed roses, reminiscent of a Miss America pageant, to replace the traditional nosegay.

It's evident that the nuptial rose today has no color limitations. By working with her florist well in advance of the wedding day, the bride-to-be can choose the rose colors and designs to express the feeling or sentiment most important to her on the most important day of her life.

Why pay to heat this much space,

when you're only using this much?

Fact is, by using an electric space heater and turning down the thermostat you can save up to 18 percent on your fuel bill this winter. Because a space heater can keep you nice and snug at 70° while you keep the rest of the house at an economical 60°.

It's that 10° that makes the difference. You get the heat you need where you want it, in the rooms you're spending time in. That means you conserve everywhere else.

The savings more than offset the cost of the heater.

Which doesn't even begin to take into account what you'll save the next year. And the next year. And the year after.

So why pay to heat your furniture? Unless of course, you have money to burn.

Spikers End 18-10

CLC Sports Notebook

by JOHN PHELPS

The College of Lake County's volleyball team concluded its season when it was quickly eliminated from the Region IV tournament, held at the College of DuPage.

The Lancers took part in a four-team pool on the first day, with the top two teams advancing in the double-elimination format.

"There we a lot of upsets this year in the regionals. Out of nine seeded teams, only three advanced, one of which was previously undefeated Thornton," commented Lancer head coach Laura Phillip. Thornton was defeated in the finals by Kankakee.

In the pool play, Lake County was dethroned by Carl Sandburg and conference rival Oakton, whom the Lancers had beaten twice during the regular season.

In recapping the spikers' season, CLC was undefeated in regular season Skyway Conference play, and along with the Skyway Conference tournament, repeating as champions. Finishing 18-10 overall, the Lancers went on to claim the sectional title.

"We had a good year, but when the opportunities presented themselves, we were reluctant and did not take advantage of them, primarily in the region tournament," Phillipsaid.

Incidentally, coach Phillip, in her second season and a resident of Lake Zurich, was acknowledged as Skyway Conference Coach of the Year.

Individually for the players, all-conference and all-region honors were not available, as they will be announced at a fall sports banquet in December.

Teams Ready

As usual, most Lakeland area basketball teams are now busily preparing for the opening-season tournaments.

Competing at Round Lake will be the host Panthers and Wauconda. At Mundelein, area teams Carmel, Mundelein and Warren do battle.

Most opening round games start Nov. 26 with finals slated for Nov. 29. Nov. 27 is off for Thanksgiving.

Lancers Start Fast, Win Own Tournament

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

When it comes to junior college basketball, there's one thing coaches can be certain of from year to year.

That certainty is change. At the College of Lake County, the change means a strong defensive team - the Lancers gave up less than 70 points while winning two of three games in their own season opening tournament and depth.

"We have probably the best bunch of reserves since I've ever had," veteran CLC coach Dr. Bruce Smith said.

CLC won its season opener, a 70-68 cliff-hanger against Highland. University of Wisconsin-Waukesha topped CLC 66-64 but the hosts then held off Moraine Valley 72-67 for the championship.

The depth can be seen by looking at the scorebook.

Against Highland, David Tucker led the way with 18 points but Todd Gordon had 11 and Joel Elfering and Terry Wright had six each.

Against U-W Waukesha, 10 Lancers scored. Tucker had 20 points, complimented by Sitz who had 18. Elfering contributed eight points.

Tucker burned the net in the first half against Moraine Valley - scoring 18 of his 24 points in the first 24 minutes. Tucker did so with flashy spinning moves on opponents and was deadly on a fast-break.

When Tucker, a Waukegan East graduate, was shut-down in the second half, the Lancers answered by extending a lead to 10 points before holding on at the end.

Wright had 17 points, Gordon eight and Matt Weber seven.

Smith said a lack of height - Antioch grad Don Gunther and Warren's Dave Sitz are the tallest at 6-5, means emphasis on quickness.

"We did not commit a turnover in the first half tonight," Smith said after the Moraine Valley victory.

One area the Lancers appear to be needing a little work is rebounding. Smith acknowledged that area may be a weakness for his squad.

"We're going to be small, so we will have to make it up with quickness," Smith said.

This year's team has a tough act to follow for the two-year college.

Smith is coming off a 22-10 campaign and beat out Wright for the Skyway Conference championship. The 85-86 Lancers came within a few points of advancing far in the post-season play.

But that is in the past and on Saturday night CLC faced a bigger Moraine Valley squad.

The Lancers, tourney hosts but visitors for the game, ran off a 7-0 spurt at the start. The Maruders used a strong inside game and a couple of three-point baskets to get back into the contest, closing the gap to one point.

CLC answered that with a crucial spurt at the end of the first half and regained a seven-point lead at halftime.

Tucker, a 5-11 swingman, led the way, scoring 10 points in the final six minutes of the half.

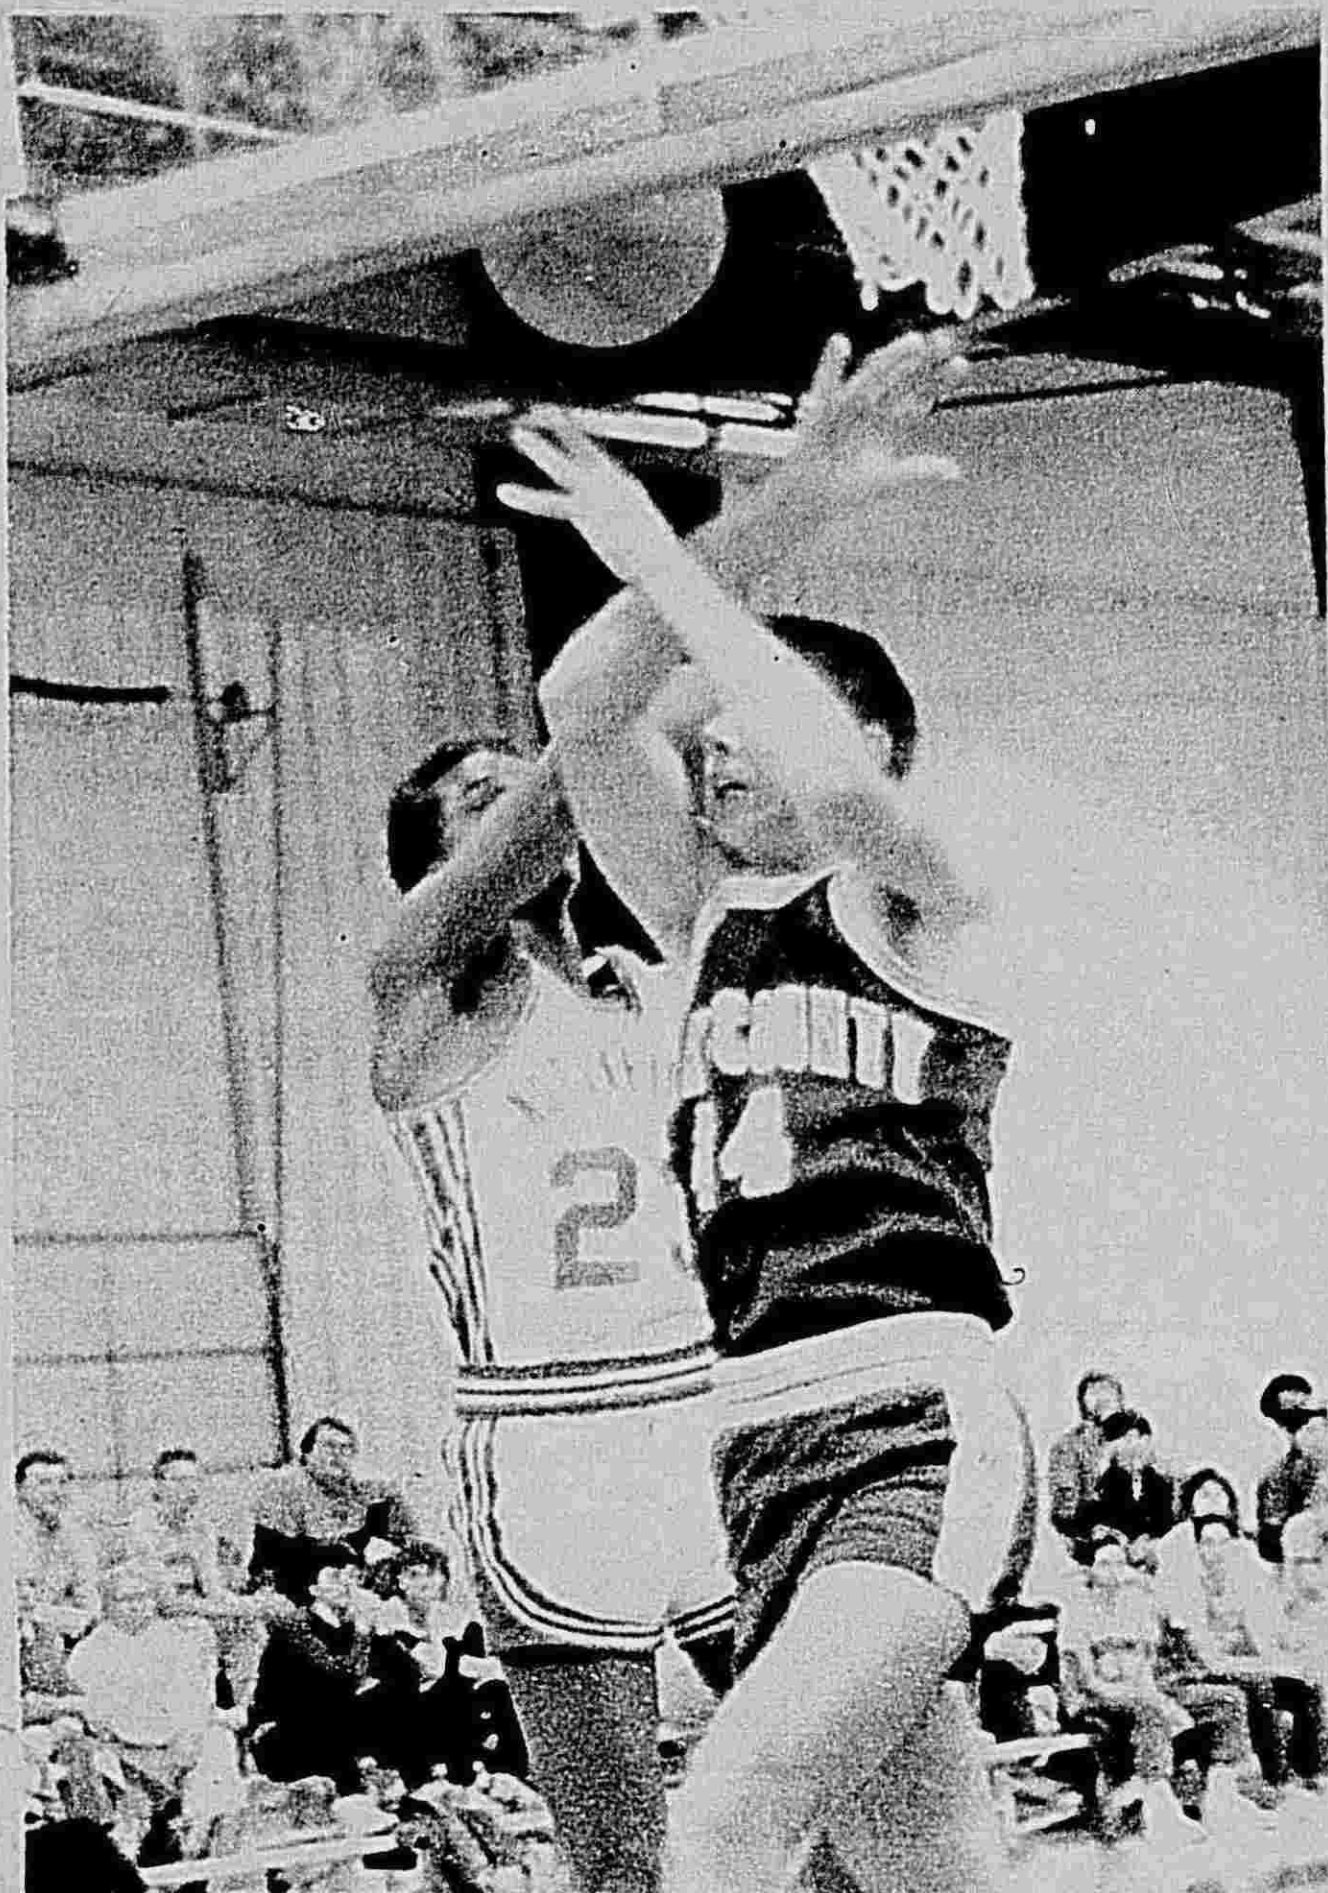

The Lancers opened up a 14-point lead in the first six minutes of the second half. This rush was led by several players: Tucker, Gunther and Gordon all contributed.

Moraine Valley rallied, trimming the margin to four with just under four minutes left.

CLC hung on, getting four clutch free throws down the stretch.

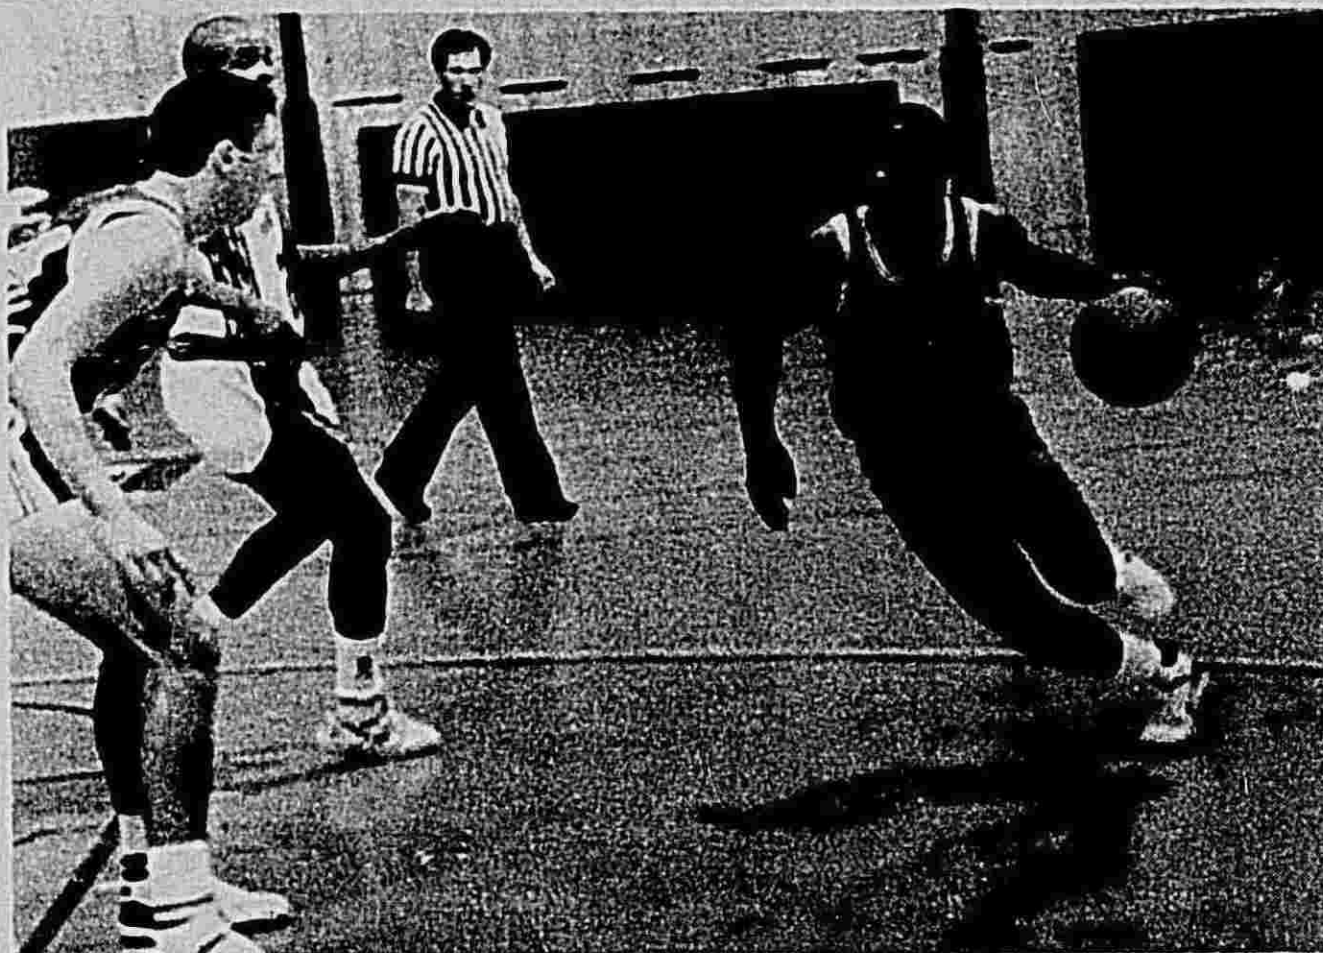

Upcoming games for the Lancers include battles at Joliet Thursday night, followed by a Harper Thanksgiving tournament, a contest at home against Rock Valley on Dec. 6 before the team hits the road for two Christmas tournaments.

The Skyway Conference season starts Jan. 6 and by then, Smith should have a better idea about the changes which will shape the personality of this year's contingent.

Net Effect Of Elections Is No Economic Effect

By now you've seen it splashed across the front page—the Democrats have gained control of both houses of Congress. When ABC News asked voters in an exit poll what their main concern was when they voted, they replied the economy. So, how will a Democratic Senate affect the country? Hardly at all: present economic stability and steady growth will continue.

However, The Meyers Report is concerned about a rise in protectionist sentiment and the possibility of trade tariffs being revived. There is little chance of this happening while President Reagan remains in office, but after 1988 who's to say?

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

The effect of any sweeping protectionist legislation would be disastrous. Tariffs are supposed to protect jobs at home, but they only work as a quickfix.

In the long run, they make matters worse. Tariffs drive up the price of imported goods. This tends to drive up prices in general, starting an upward inflationary spiral. Subsequent rises in the operating costs of businesses cause them to lay off workers, and that increases unemployment.

The other danger, of course, is a trade war, and it would be our agricultural exports that would be hit the hardest. The last thing the American farmer needs is to see parts of the already shrinking world market closed off to him.

Forecast. There is room for interest rates to decline further. The Japanese have lowered their discount rate, giving the Federal Reserve space for another cut. Most economists are saying that the Fed won't cut the discount rate because our economy is picking up steam, but The Meyers Report is still predicting that the discount rate will be cut to 5 percent in December.

Bad news for savers. Not only did the Treasury lower its rate on Series EE savings bonds to 6 percent from 7.5 percent (over 1.2 million sold last month in the rush to get the high rate), but we can also look for rates on savings passbooks to decline.

Like the hula hoop and the Frisbee, a new trend is headed from California—5 percent savings-passbooks. At present, rates on passbooks range between 5.25 percent and 5.5 percent. But, in the Midwest, smaller institutions are already lowering their rates, and the big banks will quietly follow by the end of the year.

Look for banks to lower their passbook rate to 5 percent, savings and loan associations to range from 5 percent to 5.25 percent and credit unions to average 5.25 percent.

In review. The Dow Jones industrial average is within 25 points of the record set in July. What has driven it up? Good economic news. Our trade deficit is decreasing, which is helping our productivity to increase. Housing is still strong, and general conditions are stable.

Look for the Dow to waffle through November with a general upward drift. Then look for a sharp drop in the last trading days of the year, as investors take their capital gains before tax reform goes into effect.

Here's a brief summary of the good news: In September, new orders for manufactured goods were up 1 percent from a year ago and up 3.4 percent from last month. This indicates that our manufacturing sector may be rebounding.

Manufacturer's inventories declined by 2.5 percent over the past 12 months and are down 0.2 percent from August.

Between September 1985 and September 1986, construction spending is up 6.7 percent, and up 1.4 percent from last month.

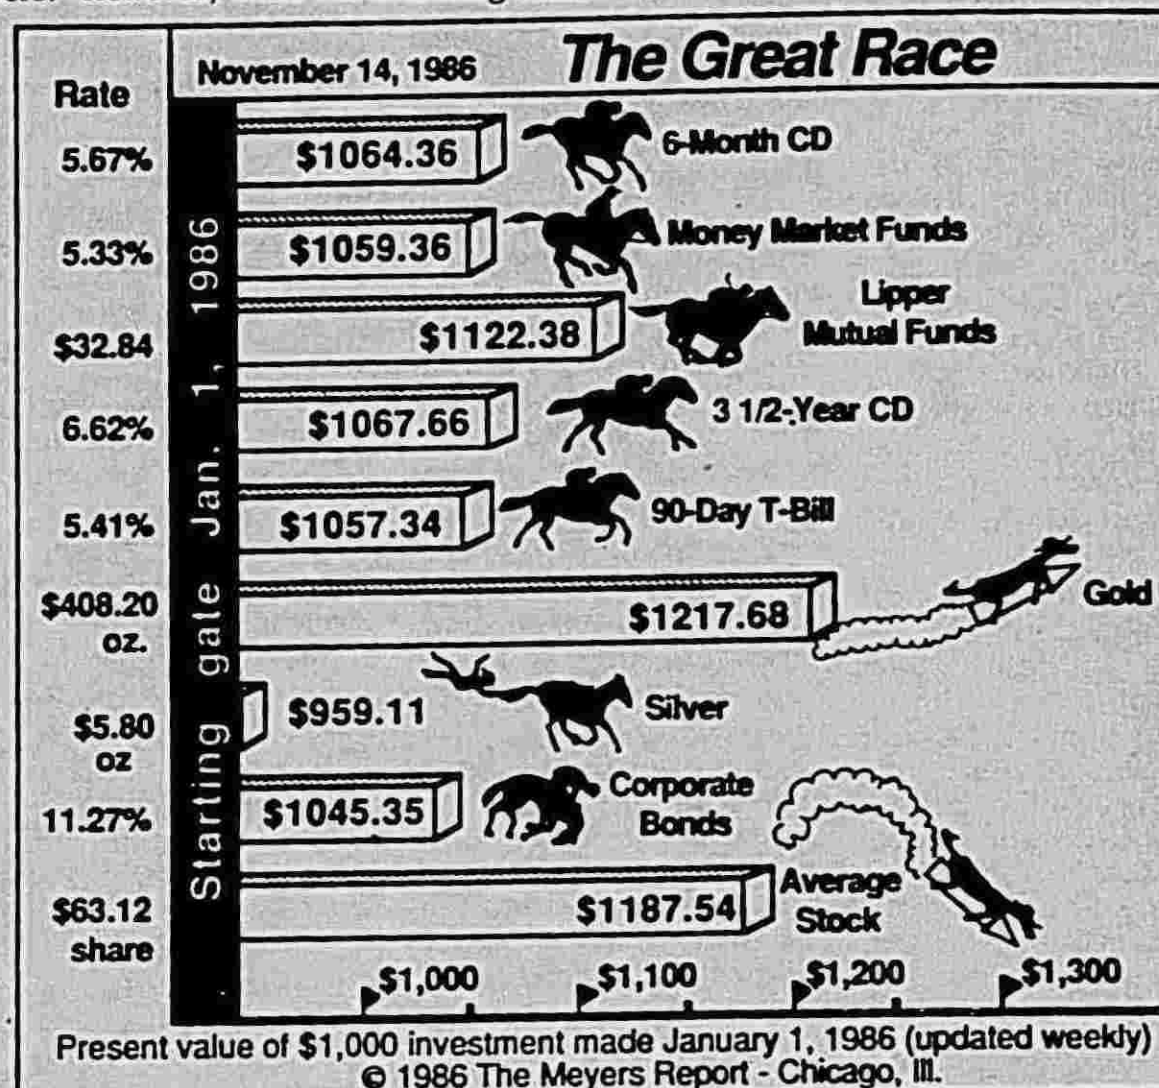

Domestic new auto sales rose by 6 percent in October from a year ago, due to the special financing rates offered by major manufacturers. However, when the financing rates were dropped, so did sales. Sales in the last 10 days of October slid by 6 percent from last year.

Short-term Treasury yields are up due to the government refinancing, but medium-term and long-term yields are down this week.

Savings: Savings rates remained stable this week, with no significant changes.

In a nationwide survey, about twice as many institutions reported rate decreases on six-month and 30-month CDs as rate increases. On 5-year CDs, 15 percent of the institutions raised their rates, while 12 percent lowered them.

High Tech Of SDI To Save American Industrial Output

by GARY S. MEYERS

When it comes to the Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI), it's not future U.S. weaponry that the Soviets fear as much as the rapid development of American high technology. The Reagan SDI program really could be called the Scientific Development Investment.

The billions of defense dollars authorized under the present SDI program are being spent more for the tools of high technology than for the defensive systems themselves.

For all Americans much is at stake. We are in a time when our economy and our industrial base is under attack from friend and foe alike.

The only way for the American worker to compete with the cheap labor pools of Asia and elsewhere and with foreign government subsidies is through efficiency and through a whole range of jobs and products that technologically only can be "made in America."

Experts believe that the real competition between the U.S. and the Soviet Union is for world preeminence in general applications of technological innovation and productivity.

"The high-tech tools and techniques that could make a strategic defense possible are the same tools that are having tremendous civilian applications, which outweigh their military potential by 20 to 1," said Larry Sumney, president of Semiconductor Research Corp., a consortium of 35 major U.S. electronics firms which are pooling their research and development efforts.

"What most Americans don't realize, but the Kremlin does, is that the U.S. is securing its civilian economic and technological lead in the world for the next 20 to 30 years," said Gerald Yonas, Ph.D., vice president of Tital Corp., which specializes in electronic communications systems for civilian and defense systems. "SDI is a crucial line in the chain of high-tech drivers that support that lead."

The possibility of being left behind has caused Britain, West Germany and even non-militarist Japan to join the U.S. on the SDI bandwagon.

"The Soviets can't keep up with that kind of movement. Their culture won't allow it, their myths won't support it, and their bureaucracy can't tolerate it," said Yonas. "Success grounded on the necessary consumer support of a technology base is intolerable in the Soviet structure."

Whether the Strategic Defense system that the Reagan administration envisions gets off the ground or not, the research already commissioned is producing tools which will more than pay for themselves in non-military applications.

"SDI's promise of a defense against missile attack would be the culmination of a long string of benefits we'll see from the program," said David Martin, director of external affairs for SDI. "A civilian marketing branch of SDI already is being established to encourage spinoffs for civilian benefits from the research being conducted."

Here's a sample of what America will be getting just in the transportation and health fields.

AIRCRAFT CONTROL-- "Accurate, safe aircraft control at the nation's busiest airports will become child's play," said Dr. James A. Ionson, director of the Office of Innovative Science and Technology for the SDI Organization (SDIO), the government body that coordinates the SDI program. "The technology to sort out 10,000 warheads from decoys in space, will make crowded airport landing patterns seem like deserted freeways."

COMPOSITE MATERIALS developed for the space program are making possible lighter, stronger, fuel efficient cars, trucks and aircraft.

HIGH SPEED RAILWAYS-- Japan has already been researching high-speed trains that ride a magnetic wave, and with SDI, the U.S. will support the development of such technology. U.S. industry would not be able to afford the research on its own.

The electro-magnetic rail gun, one of the emerging stars of the SDI program, uses magnetic energy to push a projectile at high speed from "magnetically charged tracks."

"There's no reason you can't have a large projectile, such as a train, riding on the same magnetic propulsion," said Dr. Ionson.

And to protect our health from within and outside the body we are getting:

REPLACEMENT PARTS FOR THE HUMAN BODY-- "We're inventing a whole new class of materials, not existing in nature, which could emulate human tissue," said Dr. Ionson.

"From that we'll see advances in rejection-free artificial skin and bone grafts."

"They're not just composite materials, but new materials made possible by the manipulation of molecular structures," said Dr. Ionson.

The molecular studies necessary to develop such materials have applications reaching into such areas as cancer research and toxic waste cleanup.

The civilian benefits goes on and on.

So it's war. Not Buck Rogers vs. ballistic missiles, but a war of economics. The stakes are the future of civilian high technology and the economic future of nations.

Honor Outstanding Employees

A special Thanksgiving Celebration will be held by the local Manpower office to honor its outstanding office and health care workers Thursday, Nov. 20 at the Country Squire in Grayslake.

Charles R. Bartels, owner of the Manpower franchise with offices at Lakehurst and Mundelein, will present the honorees with sterling silver necklaces or tie tacks designed especially for Manpower by Tiffany & Co.,

the world's famous "House of Elegance."

The Manpower Tiffany Awards are part of the firm's Quality Performance Program. The honorees have exceeded stringent performance objectives, including an evaluation of their work record by both Manpower and the customers who use Manpower's services.

As the world's largest temporary service firm, Manpower, Inc., annually provides employment to more than 700,000 people through its 1,250 offices in 34 countries. Office Services accounts for more than half of the temporary assignments in which its work force is engaged.

Area employees to be honored are Lori Ann Berkiel, Deborah Conners and Barbara Miller of Antioch; Pamela Rooney and Sara Strain of Grayslake; Joy Smith and Wendy Wozniak of Great Lakes; Carol DeBernardis, Jeanne Ryan, Renee Skora and Mary Slazes of Lake Villa;

That's why it's important to give your children a Chiropractic Checkup regularly. Many times, untreated childhood accidents turn into spinal distortions that may not show up for months or years. Parents never really know how many little bumps, knocks, and falls their children have had. Why take a chance? Bring your children in for a Chiropractic Checkup. CALL TODAY!

Farrah Fawcett as Nazi hunter Beate Klarsfeld

By Wendy Wallace

Farrah Fawcett continues her string of serious roles in the true story of a young German Protestant woman who risked her life and freedom to point the finger of guilt at former Nazis, in Nazi Hunter: The Beate Klarsfeld Story (ABC, Nov. 23). Fawcett plays Klarsfeld, who worked relentlessly, along with her husband, Serge (Tom Conti), to expose Klaus Barbie, one of the most hated Nazis in occupied France. Barbie was living comfortably in South America at the time.

Farrah Fawcett

Geraldine Page also stars as Ita Halaunbrenner, a woman whose husband and children were killed at Barbie's instruction. Barbie's deportation from his hiding place in South America rested on Halaunbrenner's ability to identify him after he had assumed a new identity.

The courage and the heroism of American Army nurses in the Philippines during World War II highlight Women of Valor (CBS, Nov. 23). Susan Sardon is head nurse Col. Margaret Ann "Maggie" Jessup, whose story begins as she is testifying before a special session of a Congressional Armed Services Subcommittee on women in the draft — and tells of the nurses' unyielding courage and perseverance while they were held in a prisoner-of-war camp after their capture by the Japanese.

Kristy McNichol co-stars as a 19-year-old civilian trapped in the Philippines after the execution of her father.

The Thanksgiving Promise (ABC, Nov. 23) offers a traditional Thanksgiving story featuring Beau Bridges and his real-life father Lloyd, mother Dorothy and son Jordan.

Jordan plays Travis Tilby, a young boy torn between his love for an injured Canadian goose and his agreement to fatten and slaughter it for a neighbor's Thanksgiving dinner.

Reminded by his father of the promise he made to his neighbor, Travis is suddenly faced with the all-too-grown-up problem of either breaking his word or losing the closest thing to a real friend he has.

And Kimber Shoop tackles a difficult role as Ted Kennedy Jr., the active 12-year-old son of Massachusetts Senator Edward Kennedy, who overcame the loss of a leg to cancer, in The Ted Kennedy Jr. Story (NBC, Nov. 24).

Craig T. Nelson and Susan Blakely co-star as the senator and his wife, Joan, who support their son through the difficult rehabilitation period and the painful chemotherapy that follows — and encourage him to continue to lead an active life.

Weather Delays Start

Bad weather has delayed the start of a business in Wadsworth.

According to Mayor Ed Tomkowiak, Tempel Steel's new target for start-up is January or February.

"They had planned to open in November," Tomkowiak said.

The mayor said work continues at the vacant building bought by Tempel Steel with help from Lake County earlier this year.

Tempel Steel is moving its Ferrite Division to Wadsworth, renovating a 20,000 square foot building at the corner of Wadsworth Rd. and the Milwaukee Road railroad tracks.

The company estimates 40 local jobs would be created at the plant.

In other village news, Tomkowiak said a planning committee has been selected for the village's 25th anniversary celebration next June.

There's Gold In What Many Consider Junk

GARY S. MEYERS

Bizarre items from every year valued by experts as rare collectibles are turning America's past into gold and profit for today's investors.

Architectural antiques, rusty barbed wire, obsolete stock certificates or a cigar and from a turn-of-the-century stogie are just a few of the odds and ends of American history that are turning out to be mighty good investments, experts told The Meyers Report.

"It's becoming more and more difficult to track down architectural antiques from the Colonial period or the 19th century," said Lawrence Grow, author of the "Old House Catalog."

For example, Grow said stained glass windows once were available almost everywhere. Today, a large proportion of the existing stock is imported from England.

"Tiffany glass is so rare that a good piece will cost thousands," said Kelynn Lilley, a Chicago-based fine art appraiser. "For example, a stained glass door designed by Frank Lloyd Wright could be worth between $20,000 and $40,000."

Other architectural antiques—such as light fixtures and pieces of marble, terra cotta, mahogany and cherry dating from the Civil War to the Depression—are equally difficult to find.

"There was a time when every junkyard had its share of gaseliers and early electric light fixtures," said Grow. "But that time has passed. Even fixtures of the 1920s and 1930s command astonishing prices today."

Here are some other bizarre collectibles that may be worth their weight in gold:

STOCK CERTIFICATES—

The practice of collecting elaborately beautiful vintage stock certificates is called scripology. Once worthless, today rare and unusual old stock certificates are worth between $10 for ordinary issues and $200 for the more elaborately designed issues.

Stocks of railway and

Accounting Firm Sets Seminar

Cites Volunteers

St. Gilbert's School held a ceremony honoring the volunteers who generously assist in classrooms and offices. The Nov. 12 ceremony cited these volunteers for their cultural enrichment, lunchroom supervision, library services, hot-dog day assistance, and their one-on-one work with students who need extra help.

mining issues—companies that helped to open our nation's frontiers—are in demand because they represent pieces of America's financial history. Some long-defunct issues, such as those for early motion picture companies are among the best investments, experts say.

CIGAR BANDS—In the 1890s, collecting cigar bands was a more popular hobby than stamp collecting, and some experts say the pastime will come back.

These brilliant bits of paper that encircled the most costly Havana cigars, as well the stogies smoked by stable boys, portrayed kings, queens, heroes and famous beauties. They usually were printed in bright gold, silver and rainbow colors.

Today, old cigar bands still can be bought for bargain prices—between $2 and $25, depending on design and condition. Experts say they are bound to increase in value soon. Old tabletops and trays covered with lacquered cigar bands also can be found at rummage sales and resale shops.

BARBED WIRE—A rare, foot-long piece of early barbed wire can bring $250 or more, and prices are going up all the time. The nostalgia here is for the wire that fenced in the west.

When the first barbed wire patent was issued in 1867, it started a rush to devise new types of protective wires. Hundreds of varieties came into vogue, such as wire with barbs shaped like fish hooks or spur rowels, or formed by intricate knots, reports the International Barbed Wire Gazette.

BEER CANS—More than

3,000 different beer can types are known, and many of them are colorful collectibles. "Among the rarest and most sought-after are cans commemorating the coronation of King George VI in 1937, and the New York World's Fair of 1939," said Charles Hamilton, a noted New York-based appraiser of collectibles.

Then there are the Miss Rheingold cans with pictures of contestants. However, only the rarest cans bring much money. Prices on most cans range between $1 and $50, but the King George and the World's Fair cans could bring in hundreds. This is a wide-open field for small speculators.

MATCHBOX LABELS—

Labels pasted on the tiny rectangular boxes in which sulphur and phosphorous matches were first packaged, are a favorite item. Many of the early labels are superbly colored and intricately beautiful. Today, there are several clubs devoted to the hobby of matchbox collecting.

The matchbox label was introduced with the "friction lights" or "lucifers" invented by chemist John Walker in 1826. Only two labels from his boxes survive, notes Hamilton.

For most of the matchboxes traded, prices range between $2 and $25. However, fine examples dating from the last century fetch excellent prices—often several hundred dollars each—whenever they come up for sale.

LOCKS OF HISTORIC

HAIR—Other than a sentimental reminder, locks of your long-departed Aunt Minnie's hair aren't considered collectible unless she was a famous person. Not many years ago, collectors bought a few strands of George Washington's hair, fully authenticated, for a few dollars. Today a lock of Washington's hair cannot be had for less than $150.

At one time, locks of Abraham Lincoln's hair could be had for the asking. His wife, Mary Lincoln, had a huge shock cut from his head after he was assassinated and occasionally made gifts from it to applicants. Recently, however, Lincoln's locks brought in upwards of $1,000 at an auction, reports Hamilton.

Scouting, Practice Shows Differences In Philosophy

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Basketball coaches, as anyone who has ever watched their favorite high school team play knows, are not robotic types.

You'll see all kinds of styles— from laid back to flashy. All kinds of dress, too, from school colors to three-piece suits.

An example of that difference is in area coaches' attitudes toward two of the more mundane aspects of the game: scouting and practice.

First, scouting.

They spend their Friday, Saturday and Tuesday nights sitting in the upper reaches of high school gyms.

They don't cheer, cuss or yell at the referees.

They bring pads of paper, writing down curious notes constantly.

Often times, seeing enough, they leave early.

Just who are these people, anyway? Russian spies attempting to steal our secrets of the motion offense?

No, these people are red-blooded Americans alright.

They're scouting.

In high school hoops, scouting has different connotations for different programs.

"We scout pretty thoroughly. We like to look at what a team exploits offensively and defensively," Round Lake coach Bob Ward said.

Mundelein coach Dennis Kessel takes a different approach.

"I don't scout too much. I feel the best way is to prepare your team and then adjust during the game," Mundelein coach Dennis Kessel said.

"After a scout, or fan, see a game they should ask themselves: why did team A beat team B?" Carmel coach Frank Belmont said.

When asked, most area coaches said the things they look for in a scouting report are the team's key players, balance, tendencies and out-of-bounds plays.

While recognizing that scouting is important, most area coaches do not send out assistants hither and yon to see a team theirs might see in three weeks.

"It's important to know what's out there. But we don't like to go too far overboard," Belmont said.

"We go into a regional tournament that's been pretty steady for the last four or five years. We play Warren and Mundelein right away and we get out to see Libertyville a couple of times a year. We don't get that detailed in our scouting," Belmont said.

Another aspect that varies in philosophy is practice.

All teams are somewhat under the gun this year as overall practice days have been cut from 20 to 10.

"You can either try and get a few things in and do them well before the opener or try to get everything in. We've chosen the latter," Warren coach Darrel Badder said.

Kessel and most other coaches said they Continued on page 12

Carmel's Magic Season: Mediocrity To Sweet 16

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

It was a memory worth reliving.

Carmel's fans jammed their side of Libertyville, Waukegan East and then Elgin High Schools screaming for their beloved Corsairs.

And coach Frank Belmont's team responded.

Carmel's magic carpet ride actually started in January.

They struggled early to get to the .500 in the early going, starting with a 4-5 mark, but once the Corsairs did, they won the respect of the top East Suburban Conference schools and extended their season to within a game of the Elite Eight.

A look back at the tournament games:

Carmel opened the Libertyville regional with an easy win over the host Wildcats, then faced Warren, who beat Mundelein in round one.

Warren dominated early, gaining an eight point lead in the first quarter. Carmel chipped away in the second stanza, and an 11-2 Corsair run gave Carmel a two-point halftime lead.

The second half was a standstill before Carmel opened a lead in the fourth quarter. But Warren rallied and sank a game-tying basket in the final 10 seconds.

Carmel forced Warren to outside shooting in the overtime, and opened a three-point lead. Warren sank a hoop at the buzzer, but Carmel won 61-59.

Guard Rod Whittier had 15 points to lead Carmel, George France had 14 and Rodney Lambright had 12.

In the sectional opener at Waukegan East, Carmel faced Loyola Academy in the first game. Carmel started fast, then slowed down to a halftime tie. The second half was a see-saw affair as well until France made four clutch free throws for a 50-46 Carmel win.

Whittier led with 18 points while Rob Graham added 12 and Lambright 11.

The biggest rally for Carmel came against Waukegan East in an emotion-charged sectional championship contest.

Carmel trailed by five points at halftime and the deficit doubled in the third quarter.

But with less than three minutes left in the third quarter, Carmel turned the game around. A 16-5 run by the Corsairs in both the third and fourth quarters coupled with a 13-2 fourth-quarter spurt meant a sectional championship trophy for Carmel's trophy case.

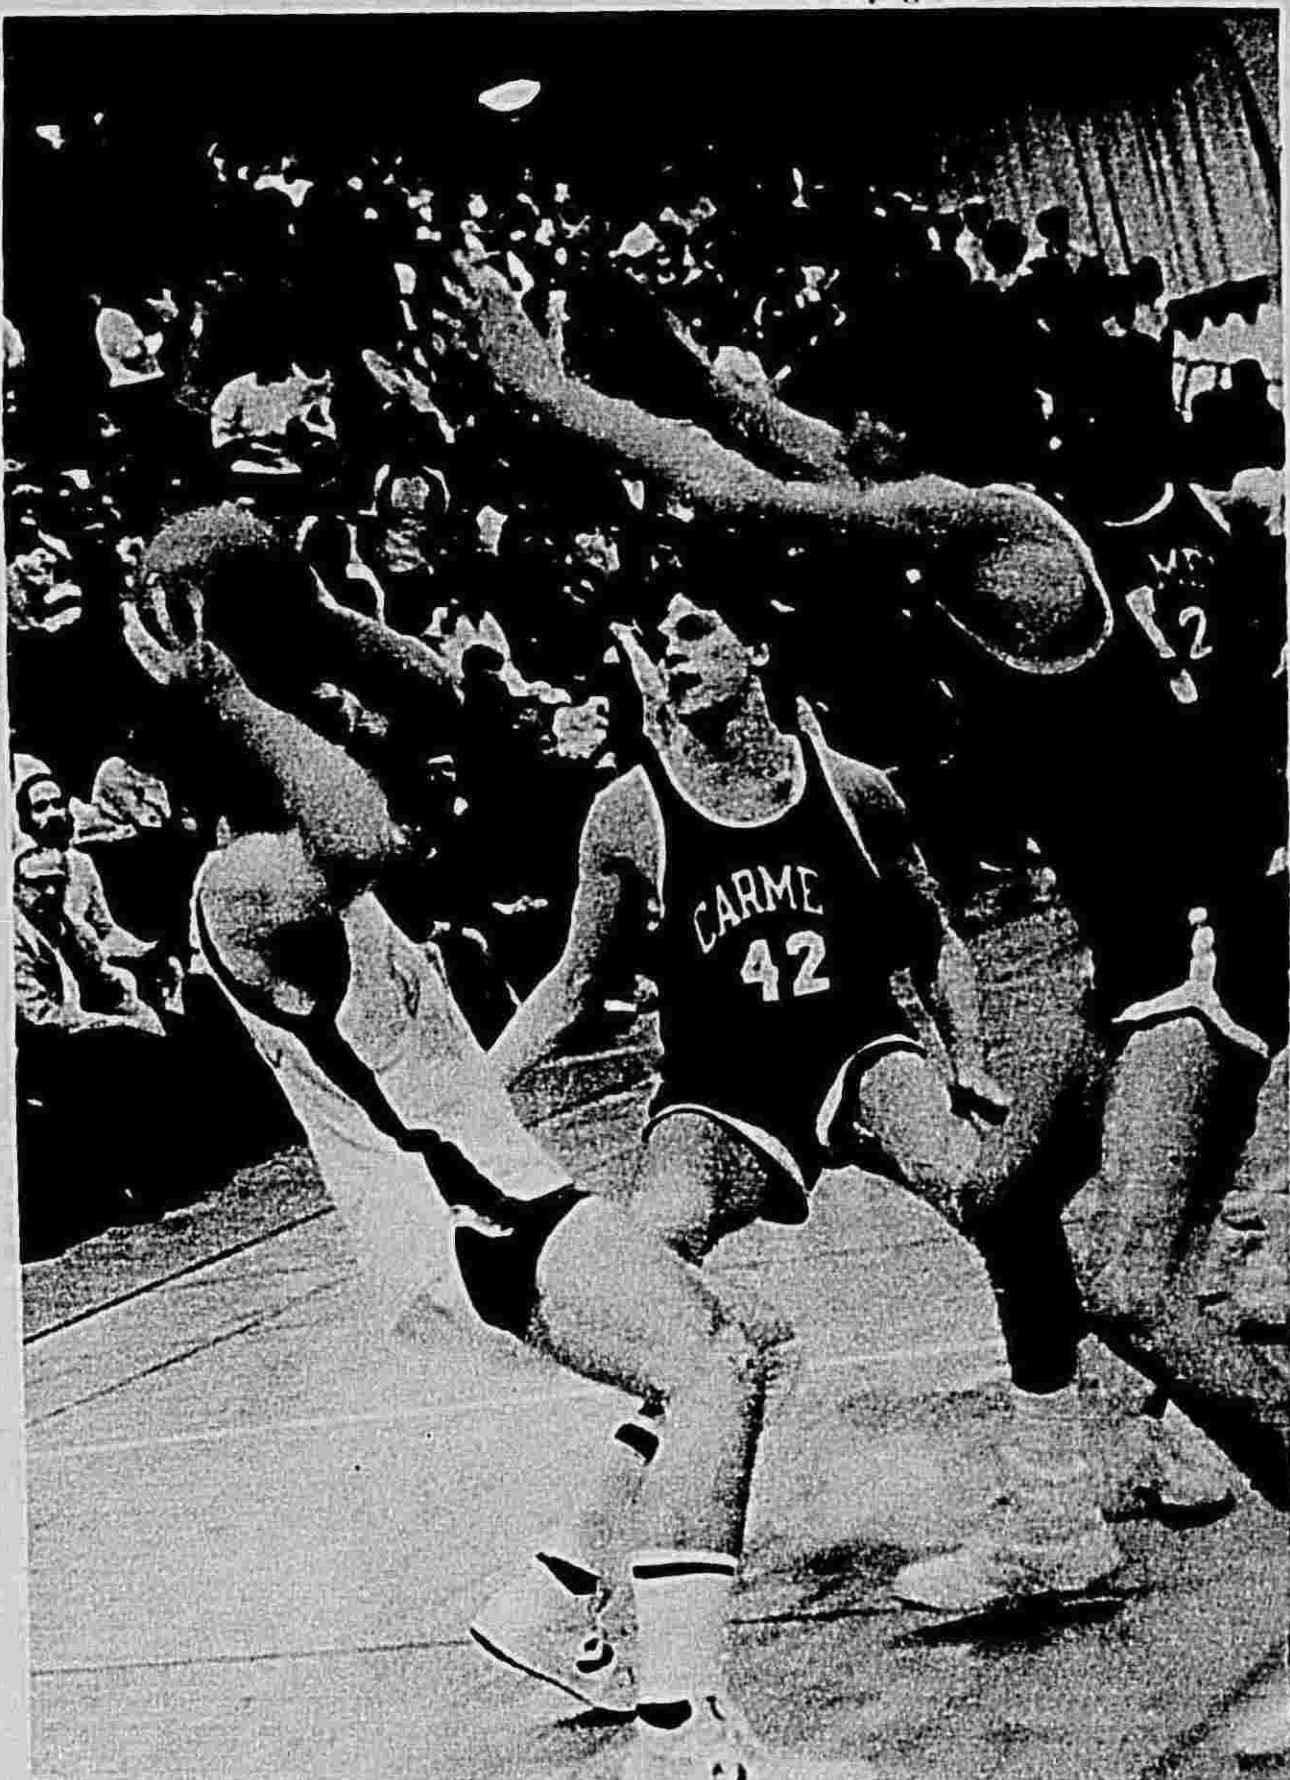

Carmel played well against Evanston in the first half, leading by eight at halftime.

Evanston's bigger and faster forces took over in the second half, taking the lead in the third quarter and blowing the game open in the fourth.

Evanston led by more than 10 points in the final quarter and the Corsair bench could only watch the seconds tick away.

Whittier had 21 points and Graham 19 but Lambright and France were held to 11 each.

The season ended at 17-12 for Belmont's team, but the magic that was with Carmel for three months will be something everyone associated with Carmel will remember.

Sandwiched

Carmel's Scott Peterson and Dan Halverson trap a Warren player in last year's regional championship game. Carmel won the game and went on to the Class AA Sweet Sixteen.

Returning Panthers

Seven Round Lake seniors return for this winter's season. Seniors returning from last year's team which won 20 games include Sal Marlini, Keith Schmidt, Bill Thomas, Jim Bells, Ken Line and Rob Akers. The Panthers open the season by hosting their own Thanksgiving tournament.

Balance.

That's the watchword at Carmel High School's basketball practice these days.

With the familiar names of Rod Whittier, George France, Rodney Lambright and Scott Peterson gone - and two Super-sectional appearances with them - to graduation, a new era starts for coach Frank Belmont.

"I hope one of our strengths will be a balanced attack. We won't have one person who we can count on for 20 to 25 points a game," Belmont said during the first week of practice.

At first glance, it would appear Carmel would have an experienced team. After all, there are seven seniors on the roster.

But only one of those seniors, Rob Graham, saw any kind of playing time during the Sweet 16 years.

That means a lot of new faces are trying to impress Belmont and earn starting time.

"Every group of kids develops its own personality over time," Belmont said.

Joining Graham as seniors on the roster are Steve Bruns, Dave Chittaro, Jerry Maloney, Audry O'Bryant, John Welling and Dan Halverson. A new senior on the roster is Tom Johnson, a transfer.

Defensively, Carmel plans on using traps to put more pressure on opponents' guards. Offensively, that word - balance - takes over.

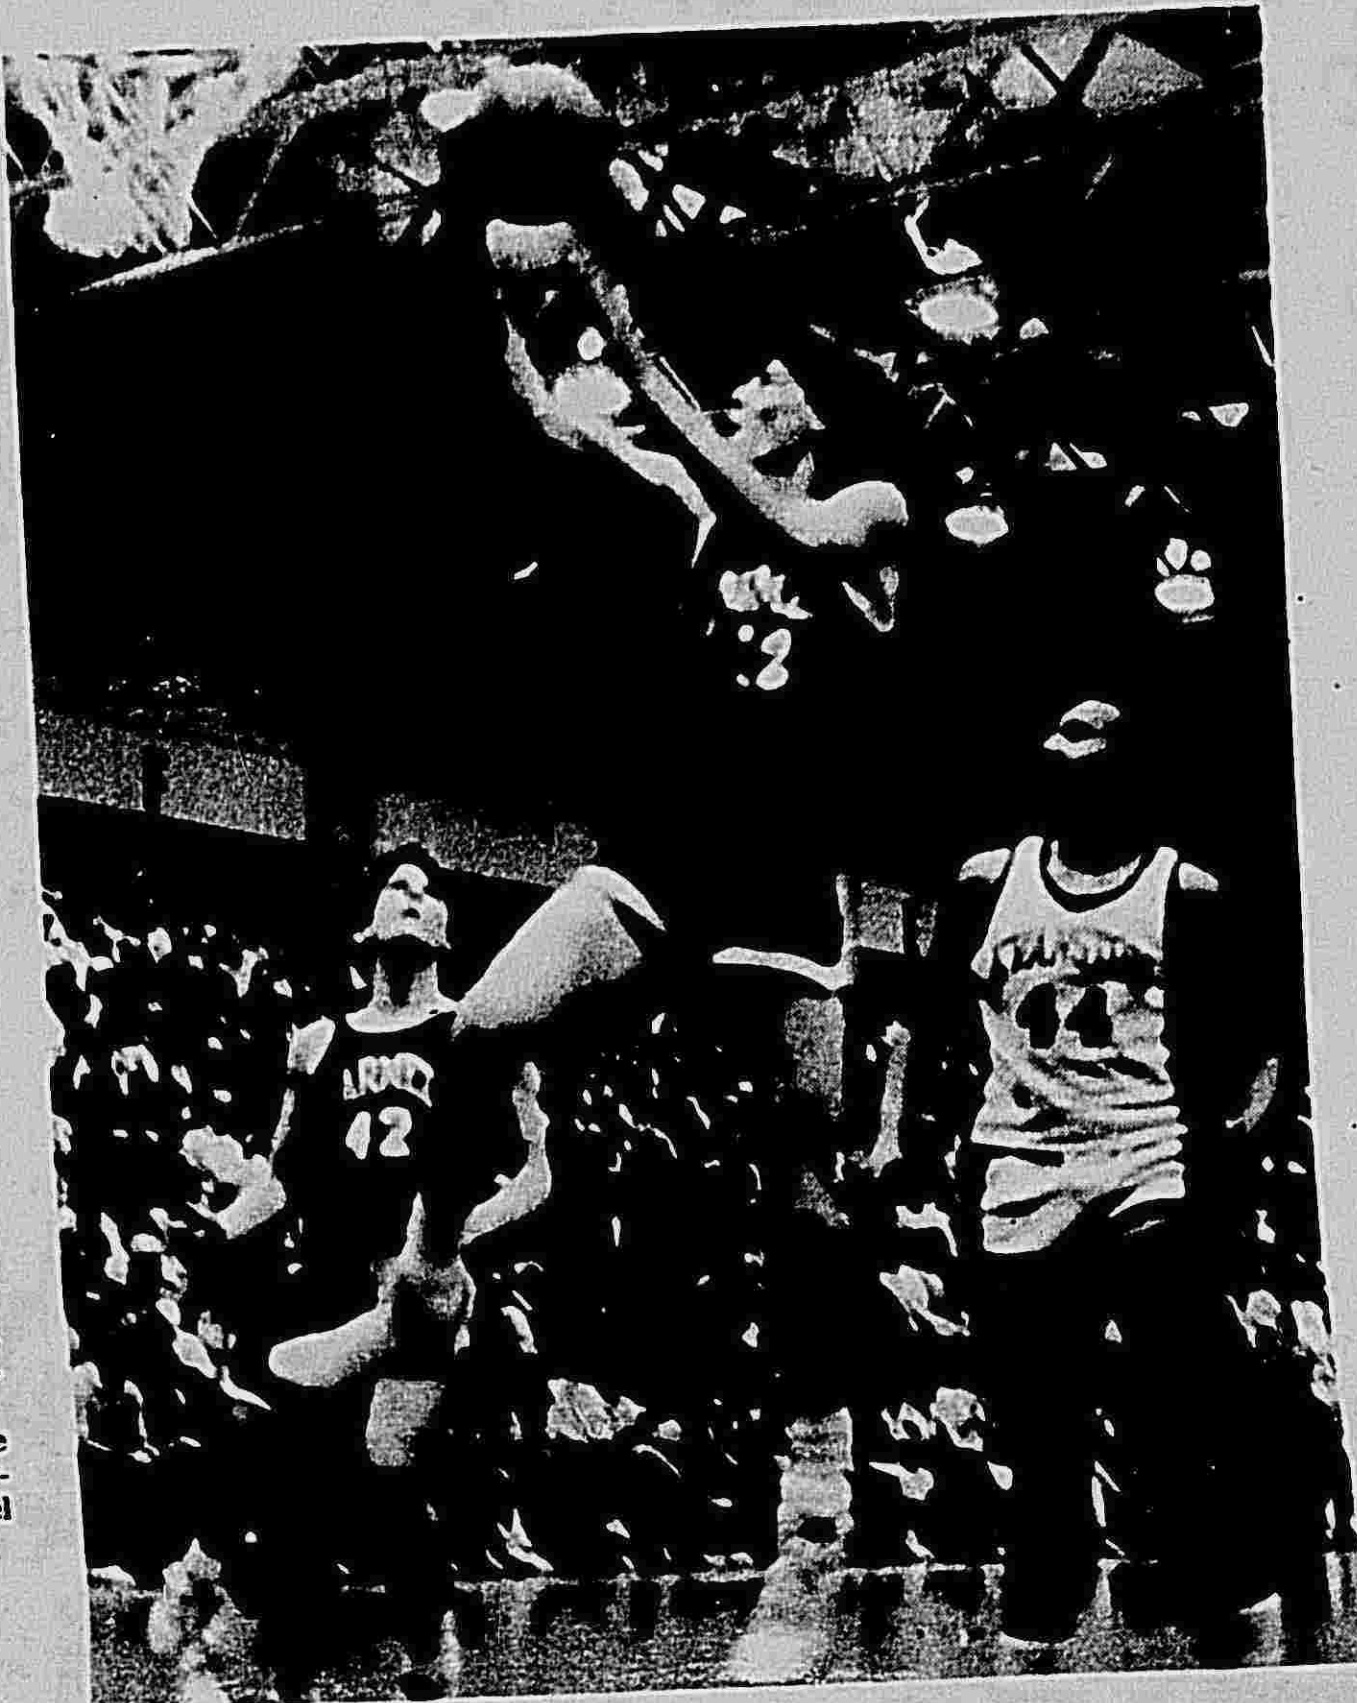

Carmel's new players don't feel pressure to get back to the Sweet 16 or beyond, Belmont said.

"Some players on this team were freshmen in high school when we first made it to the Sweet 16," Belmont said.

Belmont points to traditional power St. Joseph along with up-and-coming St. Patrick as leading challengers to Carmel's crown.

Carmel's schedule does not point to a fast start. After the season-opening Mundelein tournament, Carmel faces St. Patrick, Marist and St. Viator in consecutive weeks on the road.

If they get through that portion of the schedule, then perhaps this group of Corsairs will make its own mark in Carmel history.

Skying High

Carmel's Rob Graham skys for two points against Evanston in last year's Super-sectional game. The Corsairs will be counting heavily on Graham this year as he returns for his senior season.

It was only the third day of practice, but Mundelein basketball coach Dennis Kessel already knew his 1986 team will be different from previous years.

"No doubt we will be stressing defense. It will be a different type of defense than we've played in the past. We have to stress our quickness," Kessel said.

Kessel hopes the Mustangs of 1986-87's speciality will be defense for good reason. Mundelein will field a short team, low on varsity experience.

Plus, one of last year's returnees, Jeff Geary, faces surgery for a football injury and will not join the team until next month.

Add all that up and one has a Mustang bunch pegged for second-division finish in the tough North Suburban Conference.

"There's no pressure for these kids. They haven't won so far. Maybe this is their year. We'll be overlooked. That has its plusses and minuses," Kessel said.

Last year the Mustangs, a tall team, were just a few bounced from a successful season. Finishing at 12-13, the last game of the year was typical. Against Warren, Mundelein kept up the pace against the favored Blue Devils for most of the contest, before falling in overtime.

"We'll be a different team offensively. Last year we were bigger and used a motion-type offense with a lot of discipline," Kessel said.

This winter, Kessel plans on using a more open approach on offense, taking advantage of his team's quickness.

Although the first week of practice is too early to tell just who will be playing where, Kessel knows there will be competition for playing time.

"They've been role players in the past. Now they're expected to score," Kessel said of this year's squad.

Joe Wiener, one of eight returning letterwinners, is expected to do much of Mundelein's rebounding. At 6-5, he is Mundelein's tallest player.

New-Look Panthers Strive For Right Chemistry

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Round Lake basketball coach Bob Ward spent much of the first week of the season putting together new faces with new names.

That's because the era of Frank Ptak And Co. has passed at RLSHS and a new era dawns officially with the Round Lake Thanksgiving tournament over Thanksgiving weekend.

Chemistry, then, is not only for the classrooms at Round Lake.

"We not only lost Frank Ptak, but Doug Sparks and Greg Smith, too, who did the brunt of our scoring. Chemistry- I like that term. We have a lot of new kids learning new roles," Ward said.

team with several players six foot or better. How they work together will determine how successful Round Lake is in 1986-87.

Among the returnees are senior Bob Akers, a 6-1 wingman who started at times last year.

Also back are fellow senior Jim Bills, a 6-4 post player and Brian Richardson, a junior.

"He's progressing," Ward said of Richardson.

Guard positions are expected to be filled by Keith Schmidt and Sal Milanti, both seniors. Bill Thomas, who made the state meet in cross country, is another guard.

Promising juniors on the squad include Frank Russell, Tim Dunn, Todd Collins versus who will sit where on the bench.

"There's been more competition this year than in the past two or three years," Ward said.

Ward, a firm believer in defense, said the Panthers will use a man-to-man. Offensively, Round Lake will be operating from a 1-2-2 format.

Last year, only four teams in the NWSC managed .500 records or better in league play - Marengo, Round Lake, Lake Zurich and Grant.

"There is a lot more talent than in the past years in the league," Ward said.

Like most of his fellow NWSC coaches, Ward foresees Marengo, Lake Zurich and Grant to be the contenders this winter.

"Grant has a lot of players back from last year," Ward said.

But if the Panthers find the right chemistry, things could be as Artie Johnson used to say, very interesting.

Round Lake finished a strong 10-4 in the Northwest Suburban Conference last year and racked up 20 wins overall at 20-5. The Panthers stumbled in the tournament, though, losing their own regional final to Antioch.

This year the Panthers will field a tall and Jeff Shook.

"We're going to be pretty inexperienced in all positions. The kids have not had much experience, but I think they play alright," Ward said.

On the flip side to the inexperience, practice has been one of competition for jobs

Memories

Round Lake's Frank Ptak goes up for a shot against Grayslake last year. Panthers coach Bob Ward is working with several new players this year, but hopes his team can contend for a Northwest Suburban Conference championship.

Success breeds success.
That's been the case in Warren's boys basketball program over the last few years. The Blue Devils have won 23, 19, 19 and 20 games over the last four years.

"I think it's because we have an excellent staff. Len Chimano has been with me seven years, Chuck Ramsey, our sophomore coach, has been with me for seven years and our freshmen coach has been here three years. It creates a lot of stability," Badder said.

Badder said adults such as Ron Craft

Badder said Jarrell, a three-year starter, could see his role changed this winter.

"Last year we had Bob Bell, Russ Nolan and Al Davis in the middle. Brian was almost exclusively an outside player. Now he may have to play more inside," Badder said.

Besides the three inside players, Warren

Warren.

Badder accepted the accolades with diplomatic style, while noting that Lake Forest's sophomores beat Warren's sophs two of three games.

"The kids really like to play basketball. They get that basketball fever," Badder said.

The fever has struck Gurnee again this year and with good reason.

Not only are the Blue Devils coming off another 20-win season, but have a top player back. Senior Brian Jerrell is being touted as the top returning player in the North Suburban Conference.

"I'm optimistic," Badder said.

also lost Joel Elfering to graduation. Elfering was a consistent playmaker, setting a Warren record for assists.

Along with Jarrell, other returning seniors on the squad are guard Brad Beitzel, Dave Lambert and Jason Lenzi.

Beitzel and Lambert are listed as guards along with junior Derek Shelton.

Other players vying for playing time are junior center Brian Sears, at 6-4; Dave Nolan, a 6p4 forward; and Dave Sjong and Mike Wagner at guards.

"The juniors have to grow up quick," Badder said.

Up For Two

Warren Twp. basketball player Joel Elfering strives for two points against Libertyville in a game last year. The Blue Devils are defending North Suburban Conference champions, but must replace Elfering, who set a career assist record at Warren.

Antioch Keeps Same Goals Despite Whole New Team

by MARK BENNO

As usual, the varsity Sequoits are looking for another conference championship.

"We basically always set a goal of 20 victories and a conference championship," said head coach Don Zeman. "We like to shoot high."

Although Zeman is optimistic about his team's chances this year, he realizes that he'll be up against some tough competition. "I really like Warren," he said, "simply because they have Brian Jarrell Antioch's cause was also hurt by the early loss of what would have been the Sequoit's only returning letterman. They lost a good player who transferred to Grant at the beginning of the school year. Zeman said he would have been the tallest Sequoit, a definite plus on team that suffers from lack of height.

Zeman is, however, impressed by Antioch's outside shooting. He said the outside shooting could be the "best in a couple of years." Zeman also praised the floor speed of his team, the kind of speed he

(all-conference player last year) coming back."

Zeman also thinks that Libertyville will make a run for the title this year. He admitted that Libertyville lost some valuable seniors, but said that incoming players from the Wildcat's strong freshman and sophomore teams will give Libertyville a boost.

Zeman, though, was candid about Antioch's strengths and weaknesses. "We're very raw in terms of experience," he said, "we have no returning letterman or starters."

believes could win quite a few games.

The most likely series of events, according to Zeman, would be a slow start for the Sequoits and a strong finish. "We could develop and be a contender later on in the season. It's probably going to take us a while," said Zeman.

This is Zeman's fifth year as varsity basketball coach, and his 14th year as a basketball coach at Antioch. He also coached the junior varsity and freshman Sequoit teams.

Grayslake Aims To Finish In First Division

by MARK BENNO

Coach Greg Groth of Grayslake Community High School thinks that the varsity Rams just might have a shot at finishing in the top four of the Northwest Suburban Conference (NWSC), if not in the top spot. "We may surprise some people," said Groth, "and creep up into the top four."

And about winning the conference, he said "you never know."

said Groth, "as well as quickness. We should be a pretty quick team." Groth also said that his squad has a very positive attitude, and a good grasp of necessary work ethics.

Groth feels that defense will be the key to victory for his team. He's drilling his team to be more aggressive on defense, and to play more and better team defense. In a conference that Groth said could be won

Grayslake Rams

At this stage of the season, Groth feels that Lake Zurich, Grant, Marengo, and Round Lake should be favored as the top four NWSC teams. He said that, "all four had a lot of juniors playing last year. In fact, the conference was dominated by juniors last year."

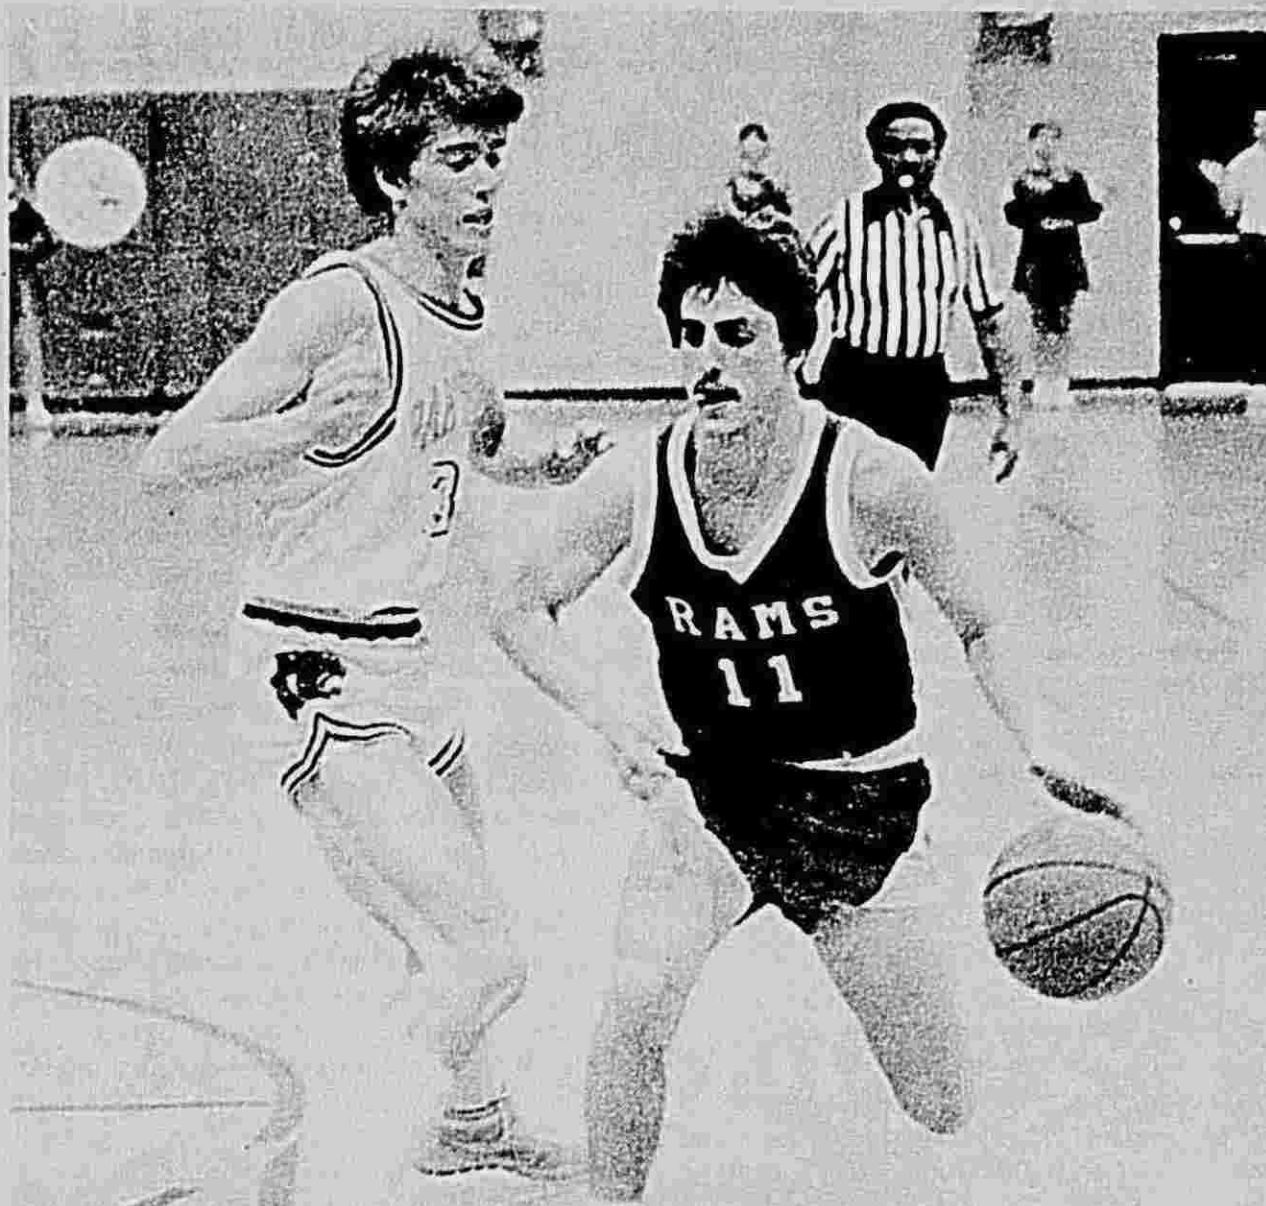

As far as his own team is concerned, Groth commented on both his kids' weaknesses and strengths. "We're very inexperienced," he said, "the only guy we have with experience from last year is Andrew Flood. We'll also be one of the smaller teams in the conference."

Being small, however, led right into a discussion about Grayslake's strengths. "Defense has to be one of our strengths," with four or five losses, a tough defense will go a long way.

The Rams will be led by returning players Eric Olson, Ray Magiera, Mike Langer, and Flood, who Groth considers a possible all-conference candidate. Sophomore Timm West, who quarterbacked the soph football squad, will also join the team. Butch LeNoir, a senior guard, will re-transfer back to Grayslake this year. Groth said that, "West, LeNoir, and Flood should be the nucleus of our team this year."

Six or seven players will probably see the most floor time this year, indicating that "we won't be as deep this year as we were last year," said Groth.

Driving On Bye

Grayslake's Kelly Bye drives past a Round Lake player during a game last year. Despite having to replace Bye, the Rams are hoping to surprise conference teams and finish in the upper division.

Skyhawks Hope Quickness, Depth Will Lead To Victory

It is always hard to follow a legend. Ben Beck tried hard for two years to live up to the legend of Johnsbury's first basketball coach, Bob Keys, who took the team to the Sweet Sixteen in 1979. Two years was enough for Beck.

Jeff Lewiston begins his first year as coach of the Johnsbury basketball Skyhawks. Lewiston spent six years as an assistant coach at Milwaukee area schools. His last two years have been spent as a head coach at other schools. He has a 39-14 record as a head coach.

Lewiston characterizes this year's team as an "encouraging" group of players. "Our quickness, shooting ability, and depth will make us a team to be contended with," he said.

The Skyhawks are coming off of a 14-13 season overall, but Lewiston is concerned about improving the team's conference play.

"We did not do as well in the conference last year as we did overall," he said. "It's important this year to gain the respect of other schools. We want them to know that when they play Johnsbury, they're going to have a game on their hands."

The coach thinks his team has one incredibly valuable intangible asset going into the season; they play with incredible intensity and have a lot of desire.

Team leadership should come from two players, 6'5" center Ron Szat and 5'10" guard Frank Huszak. Szat is an experienced player who is a good outside shooter and a physically strong athlete.

Johnsbury Skyhawks

Lewiston worries, though, about Szat's propensity for foul trouble. Huszak has been a varsity starter since his freshman year. One of the most experienced players in the league, he has outstanding court sense and is a good shooter. The coach expects Huszak to take a strong leadership role on the court throughout the season.

The obvious weakness that the Skyhawks bring into the season is a lack of size. Lewiston hopes to offset that with depth on the bench.

Among the players competing for a starting assignment are 6'0" guard Ed Nichols, 6'1" forward Brian Frazier, 5'9" guard Chris Bonus, 5'9" guard Jeff Hueman and 6'2" guard Chris Diedrick.

Warhawks Need Team Play To Be Contenders

A lot of things will have to come together for the North Chicago Warhawks to be a contender in their conference this year. Playing without a lot of size (their tallest man is 6'3"), the Warhawks will depend on superior quickness and perfectly timed team play.

Coach Lester Long, entering his third year as head coach at North Chicago, admits that the team is in the process of rebuilding. He will bring up two sophomores, 6'0" Albert Moore and 6'2" Eugene Williams, to give them playing time in hopes of having a couple of seasoned veterans in future teams.

Presley to lead the team's offense this year. Presley averaged five points a game last year as a forward, but Long said he is a stronger player with a more intense attitude this year.

"Presley should be very strong inside," he said.

Brian Duncan, a 5'11" guard, should provide court leadership to the team.

"Duncan is a very intelligent player," Coach Long said. "He tends to get too automatic sometimes - not fluid enough - but he seldom makes mistakes."

Other players who will compete for a regular spot include 6'0" Jimmy Coles,

North Chicago Warhawks

"We've got a quicker team than most in the league," Long said. "But there is a lot of height in this conference and there are going to be some strong teams."

The coach expects 6'3" center Ramsey who led the sophomore team in scoring last year, 6'0" Thomas Newberry, and 6'0" Cory Franklin.

Long said that Franklin, who was a fullback on the football team, will be a team sparkplug.

"He's a big, intelligent player who can bump and grind for us in specific situations. Franklin is very strong," the coach said.

Long believes that 6'1" Anthony Burton may be the sleeper on the team. He is a good coachable player who has a tremendous attitude.

"We will be quicker than most teams," Long said. "Most of our boys were out for track. We can surprise if we can up-tempo the game - keep the ball out front. To be successful, though, we have to know each other's moves and play a strong team defense."

Philosophy

try and alter the types of things they teach early to match the type of team they have.

Belmont said good practice habits are essential to good game play.

"People who classify themselves as 'gamers' but have poor practice habits are ultimately losers," Belmont said.

Belmont said he starts his forces slow, emphasizing the fundamentals in the early going.

"We get more organized and detailed as the season goes on," he said.

successful season at Hawley and Midlothian in Mundelein.

J. T. Mathwig, Mike Braithwaite and Geary are expected to fill the guard roles.

The Mustangs open the season Thanksgiving weekend with their own tournament. The Mustangs have made a change in this year's schedule, opting for a Hampshire Christmas tournament instead of Elgin.

Hampshire's tournament is a combination of Class A and AA schools while Elgin is all Class AA.

Kessel sees the NSC race as a battle between Warren, Libertyville and Lake Forest.

Warren has the top player returning in Brian Jarrell but the Wildcats and the Scouts also figure to be in the running.

Take Advice From Wise Old Shopper

by GLORIA DAVIS

This column is a continuation from last week on the subject that is uppermost in people's minds this time of the year, old Christmas shopping!

One were to judge by all the special to buy one.

Step number two: this one is also in deference to keeping one's sanity, check the smaller local stores to see if they stock any of the gifts you are in search of.

Usually the prices in smaller stores are wearing a pair of slippers in public. Feet that promise to be as sore as yours will have no fashion sense, believe me!

Tuck a bottle of aspirins in your pocket. You might even take a few tranquilizers along in case of an emergency, such as a slight nervous breakdown.

If an indoor mall is the place you are headed for, wear your lightest outside wrap. It's easier to run very fast from your parking place to the mall instead of lugging a heavy coat around.

There are sometimes checking lockers for coats and purchases, but this could also include walking back to the other end of the mall to get them before leaving.

Be prepared to either encounter very few, or no sales persons, when shopping in a mall. There are sometimes people who know how to ring away your money on the new computer cash registers, but they know absolutely nothing about the stock their store carries.

The scenario usually goes like this. First you walk from store to store (sighting much look-a-like merchandise in each store).

You spend hours looking through racks and shelves and finally you just may come across something you are looking for.

Of course you can't buy that one, it's just a display sample. You must then spend many many moons trying to find someone to get that item from stock.

If you are successful to this point, you then line-up in that long queue that winds through the store, starting at the nearest cashier.

I thought that last Thursday was one of my lucky days when I found a register with just one person waiting.

One hour later, full of great frustration, I had finally completed my purchase.

That person was buying 30 breakable Christmas ornaments that had to be wrapped individually. Then there was some hassle (time consuming) about the lady's charge cards. I waited patiently for the cashier to bring my item from stock.

Just as I was about to make a beeline for the illegal parking place where my husband had been waiting for 64 minutes with more than his motor running, I was told that if I wanted a box, I would have to go up three flights and across the entire store and "maybe they will have one to fit your gift."

Something went amuck someplace! Prices keep skyrocketing and retail stores keep cutting costs and services so that one is literally waiting on themselves and old John Q. Public gets screwed again.

On second thought, why do we go through all this ridiculous nonsense? Remember the old epithet, "It's the thought that counts."

After reading what I just wrote, I'm going to start now and think real hard about everyone on my list with lots of love right through New Years.

Anyway it will most assuredly get used if only to buy groceries during those brokered than broke 12 days after Christmas.

All in all, this will probably be the first time since I was a child that I haven't been too pooped to enjoy Christmas.

When I Think About It

Today advertising we are now being bombarded with, every store in existence "all the perfect gifts for everyone on your Christmas list."

The first inclination of most shoppers is to go where prices are low and the choice of products greater, ergo "It's off to the nearest mall we go!"

Being a veteran of many Christmas shopping seasons and having traveled all the venues possible in an effort to become the best, most economical shopper, with the best taste possible, "Can we Talk?"

Sit down, peruse your catalogues to see what's on this year's market. Then make a list that includes at least three choices for each person on it.

Never, and I mean never, pre-decide on a specific singular gift for anyone unless you are really preparing for a short post holiday stay in the nearest sanitarium.

I promise you that, forget the fact that you've seen many thousands of that item stocked on store shelves for the last two months, they'll be all gone the minute you try slightly higher than those in chain stores and the selection is smaller. But this does not always hold true.

I have found, to my surprise, some items either the same price as, or slightly less than, ones charged by the large discount stores.

And, happy surprise of all happy surprises, every once in awhile, the small local merchant is offering the exact thing you are looking for.

Not only will shopping near home facilitate a shorter trip to make returns on Dec. 26, but remember, that tax money is going into your own hometown's pocket.

Then and only then, when all else fails, should a person venture into the great holiday shopping pie in the sky world of the retail or discount malls.

Prepare for such a trip like you would prepare for an African safari. Allow a full day at a time. Wear the most comfortable shoes you own and tuck a pair of bedroom slippers into your purse or pocket.

Don't say you wouldn't be found dead

The Time Machine

SEVENTY YEARS AGO: November 19, 1936

The Antioch News dutifully reported an account of several young pranksters. "Five Chicago boys are being held in the county jail on charges of malicious mischief for breaking windows and destroying fixtures of summer cottages in the Harriner subdivision at Lake Catherine, near Antioch." The only thing is, now these malicious mischief makers are grown up and responsible citizens. If any of you are reading this, you oughta be ashamed.

A bit of Chinese and Hawaiian philosophy: "We seek to hide our sorrows," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "yet when they are buried they come up like seeds and bear blossoms of beautiful memories among the weeds of vain regret." And on Ho, the Hawaiian bard, said something about tiny bubbles rising the air and making him happy that you're there.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO: November 17, 1966

"Bad manners can be fatal if they occur behind the wheel of a car. The discourteous driver who tries to get away with something in traffic once too often succeeds only in hurting himself and innocent victims. Common courtesy pays off in life driving." A golden oldie that still plays like new.

Good grooming was the subject of a "girl-talk" workshop held at the Lake County Fairgrounds, open to all female 4-H members. Of particular interest, said the Antioch News, was the discussion about dirty fingernails. It seems the nasty nails got quite a few girls in an uproar. Thank goodness the workshop ironed out the details.

"The 1966 election is history, but it will be some time before the experts get through explaining just what did happen and why." Some things simply never change.

The News said, "seven members of the Antioch Fire Dept. later Fight team treated their wives to dinner and dancing at the White Oaks last Saturday." And I'm sure if you talked to their wives, they'd claim it was the last time their husbands took them out to dinner.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO: November 17, 1976

"A surprise retirement party was given to Vern (Barney) Barnstable upon his retirement from Rittenhouse and Ambree Lumber Co." Apparently the fellows surprised Vern at the Antioch Country Club. Congratulations, Vern!

One liner: "If the opposite of pro is con, is the opposite of progress congress?" This headline was thrown across the top of an Antioch News page. "Antioch Students Are Tops With Toothpicks And Glue." The story began, "Antioch High School teacher Paul Boardman's students designed and constructed bridges using only toothpicks and glue as materials." The bridges, of course, had to be tested. "As I witnessed the stress tests I felt a tinge of sadness, because the only way the ultimate strength could be determined was to apply weight until the bridge literally came apart and was destroyed." Sounds like an emotional day.

"Helen Sterbenz dropped in at Monday night's village board meeting and Mayor Bob Wilton, tongue in cheek as he often handles such occasions, properly introduced her as the mayor of Loon Lake." He also suggested that Helen could, if she wished, buy the first post-meeting drink at the World Famous Village Pub."

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I JUST DON'T KNOW about this paper sometimes. They keep forgetting to mention that the Antioch Public Library has received $392.77 in donations to buy games and learning materials for students in the Special Education programs. Dr. Donald Skidmore read the happy news. It's because of the great people at the Thrift Shop, and the yearly Cotillion, that these donations are possible. Good job!

THE ANTIOCH Women's Club, and that great gal Bernadette Bay, their art chairman, are sponsoring an essay contest open to all seventh and eighth graders. The title is "Why study the Constitution?" Well, I can give them a few answers of my own, but that can wait. The essay shouldn't be more than 1,500 words. Deadline for the contest is Dec. 7. C'mon kids, let's hear it for America!

THE LAKES REGION Historical Society will be holding an open house on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 29 and 30, at their museum. The museum's located on the corner of Depot and Main Sts. Hours for the gala event will be 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday and 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday. Come on out, because a lot of work has been done in the restoration of the original Antioch Grade School building, and the downstairs area will be open to the public. They also need help decorating the Society's Christmas tree, so bring an ornament.

YOU GUESSED IT that it's time for this week's holiday hint. What do you do when you go to someone's house for Thanksgiving and it's the first time they've ever cooked a turkey? Cry? Moan? Wish you were somewhere else? No! You sit down and eat that turkey like it was the juiciest bird this side of heaven. Why? Because, as my older cousin from Red Rock Alabammy says, "it ain't the vittles, it's the kin." Also, it never hurts to eat a little extra pumpkin pie.

I CAN'T BELIEVE what fashionable fellows we have in Antioch. First there was Wayne Parthun, and now there's Mayor Ray Toft and Trustee Robert Wilton. Mayor Toft showed up to Monday's village board meeting in a beautiful scarlet sweater vest, just to add color to the dreary season. And Robert tried to show us that although Antioch doesn't have Mickey Mouse around with politics, his shirt sure does. Nice Disney sweatshirt, Robert!

Suicide ranks as the third leading cause of death among teenagers in the United States and is on the increase. Over 5,000 teenagers a year take their own lives.

Anne Barrows, psychiatric nurse manager at Saint Therese Medical Center, will discuss "Adolescent Suicide" on Thursday, Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the education department at the Barrows will talk about the relationship between depression and suicide, signs of adolescent depression, behavior which may signal a potential suicide, and what parents or other family members should do if they think their teenager is depressed or may be suicidal. Following the presentation will be time for questions and answers.

To register, please call (312) 360-2702 between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Smoking Stinks!

One of the posters displayed at the College of Lake County (CLC) says it all—Smoking Stinks! Jacquelyn Hassett, R.N., director of health services at the college, points out materials, some made up by her office, others from the American Cancer Society. Hassett says CLC has come a long way in the no-smoking campaign. Designated smoking areas with large air cleaners are provided for those who have not yet "kicked the habit." Hassett is hopeful about the situation, saying "You can't change things overnight, and as long as we're making progress, that's what's important." The display is a nice addition to campus activities which will be conducted in celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Great American Smokeout on Thursday.—Photo by Cindy Kujak.

Protest Group Forms To Fight New Landfills

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

A COUPLE OF weeks ago, I reported that Waste Management had been convicted in the bribery case of former Fox Lake Mayor Richard Hamm and trustee Richard Gerretsen. That was incorrect.

Actually, John Horak, an

The citizens will meet Wednesday night, Nov. 19, at the Libertyville Twp. Hall at 7:30 p.m. to ask questions of those county board members who attend.

It should be an interesting session. County board member Bruce Hansen (R-Lake Zurich) promised on election night that the fight overblown rhetoric. Well, I suspect that the News-Sun is sometimes guilty of underblown rhetoric. Two of their recent editorials puzzled me.

In one, they said that published reports on the Heartland deal back in August were nothing more than rumors because publicly, all officials were denying them. I figure they must be talking about our reports, because we were the only ones who published them. Our reports were funny kinds of rumors, seeing as how all the details turned out to be correct.

In another, more recent editorial, they note that in the handling of the county board's deal on Heartland appears to be a good one. In all respects but the landfill, I agree. I don't think putting a landfill in a flood plain is a particularly good idea, even if putting a landfill in is.

ON THE RACE for county board chairman, there isn't much news to report. Lake County Republican Chairman Bob Neal was heard confidently predicting that Jim Dolan (R-Libertyville) would be easily elected early on.

Well, as I reported last week, Dolan is the candidate of the regular Republicans so it would be heresy for Neal to predict anything else. The party chairman was also confidently predicting an easy victory for Donna-Mae Litwiler a few weeks ago, too.

A review of the line-up on the board indicates that Norm Geary (R-Grayslake) and Dolan should each start off about equal. Both are probably three votes shy of the 13 needed for election, though. If the regular Republicans can get the support of incumbent chairman Jim LaBelle (R-Zion) and his supporters, then a Dolan victory is certain.

Next week, political columnist John Steinke and I will each do a report on how the vote finally appears to be shaping up. We have bet a cup of coffee on the final results.

EACH MONTH, I get a report from the Illinois Dept. of Public Aid on dismissals of service providers - that is, people or institutions the department will reimburse for providing service to public aid patients.

Usually, the department terminates a provider for fraud or some violation of medical standards.

This month, two of the twelve doctors dismissed were terminated because of their convictions for murder. Dr. John D. Cavaness, whose address is now listed in the St. Louis County Jail and Dr. Joshua Fierer, whose address is now listed in the Menard Psychiatric Center were both convicted of murder, so they may no longer dispense services to public aid patients.

Whew! I'll bet that's a relief to public aid patients.

Just Politics

employee of Waste Management, was convicted of the bribes. Though Horak maintained throughout the trial that he had received authorization from his superiors at the company to pay the bribes, Waste Management was never charged and was not convicted.

A LIBERTYVILLE BASED citizens' committee is forming to fight the request by ARF Landfill to expand its site in Grayslake and Waste Management's request for an incinerator and associated landfill in the same area.

over the landfills was not over yet. Atty. Gen. Neil Hartigan's office was reviewing the application on the Waste Management site and was expected to formally intervene this week. Among the initial concerns, according to Asst. Atty. Gen. William Sullivan, is that much of the Waste Management site lies in flood plain areas.

The battle lines are being drawn and, as Casey Stengel used to say, "It ain't over till it's over."

JUST BEFORE THE election, the News-Sun took a little jab at our columnist, John Steinke, for using

Summertime Weddings Have Romantic Appeal

When there are warmer days and there is a softness in the air that soothes the soul and calms the spirit. It's summertime, and there is no better reason for a wedding.

There are many good reasons for planning a warm weather wedding: the flowers are in bloom, the trees are full and the grass is soft and green.

People feel better too. There is a certain freedom associated with the summer months--the pace slows down, people are more relaxed, and there is a feeling of hope and rejuvenation that only the sun can produce.

There are many different types of weddings to choose from during the summer months. A garden, patio or tent weddings are among the options to consider.

Weddings such as these combine the "naturalness" of a 60's wedding with a more traditional, genteel atmosphere.

In many respects these types of weddings resemble intimate house parties, complete with the individual attention and personal touches that make a small party a success.

Weddings such as these produce a convivial atmosphere where people are more likely to move about freely, socializing with others.

Choosing wedding attire is much easier during the warmer months. Unconcerned with the many layers of clothing necessary during the winter months, you are free to choose from a variety of styles.

Off-the-shoulder or sleeveless bridal dresses and those made of cotton, eyelet, pique or organza are pretty choices for a summer wedding.

While the traditional morning suit and black tuxedo are always good choices for the groom, tuxedos in pastel colors are being seen with more regularity.

Especially nice for an outdoor wedding is a navy blue blazer paired up with white pants. A blue, pink or white shirt can be worn by the bridesmaids.

Whether one chooses traditional attire or creates their own style, is a matter of personal choice. With more and more people doing it both ways, there seems to be no set of rules when it comes to planning a wedding today.

However, there are some things that do remain the same, and the tradition of exchanging rings, whether they're engagement rings or wedding bands, is still very much alive.

The only thing that hasn't remained the same is the type of rings that people are choosing. Plain gold bands have, in many instances, been replaced by tricolor rings, rings with florentine and diamond-cut patterns, and diamond baguettes.

Engagement rings have also changed over the years. Many women now prefer colored stones over the traditional solitaire diamond.

LOWER BACK PROBLEM

If you've been treated for lower back problem and the pain and discomfort are still there, you may be able to benefit from chiropractic treatment.

If your spine is out of alignment, this may be causing other problems in addition to lower back pain. Because the body's nervous system is closely integrated with the spine, any misalignment can cause painful irritation. Abnormal nerve function may affect whatever organs, glands, or tissues that are supplied by that nerve.

The nerves of the lower back, for example, are connected to certain organs and other structures in that area. If lower back spinal misalignment is putting undue pressure on the nerves, you may be suffering from more than lower back pain. It may be having a direct effect on other areas of your body.

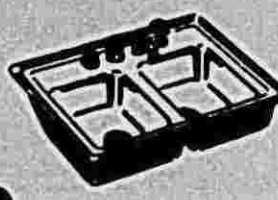

A thorough examination can disclose exactly where the problem is and how it can be corrected.

Present Drama

The internationally-acclaimed drama, "No Name in the Street," by Edward Murch, will be presented on Sunday, Nov. 16 at the Genoa City Bible Church. The presentation will feature a teenage cast from the Community Baptist Church, Silver Lake, and will begin at 6 p.m.

The one act play has won festival awards in dramatic competitions on three continents. It has been successfully telecast in the U.S. and Great Britain in addition to hundreds of performances world-wide in cathedrals, in churches, and on stage.

Set in the Holy Week, the play focuses on the passion of Christ in an unconventional manner. The traditional Biblical characters enter the story through the eyes of a mother searching for her son. Her quest leads her to the Upper Room, the Garden of Gethsemane, and ultimately Mount Calvary.

"Drama" Magazine describes "No Name in the Street" as "a thoughtful strongly-written play. Baker's Plays calls it, "one of the most popular and successful chancel dramas of our time."

The Genoa City performance will feature Sue Mayo and Jennifer Jester in the lead roles, Lori Rivers, Maureen Zwart, Rodney Wolf, Zella and Tabitha Sheen, Heather Grumbeck, Dan Nelson, Laura Kirton and Andrea Bobo fill supporting roles. The play is directed by Steve Mayo. There is no admission fee.

Offer Advanced Program

Serious high school juniors and seniors who find their attitude and schoolwork sinking into a slump should consider beginning their college education early through the Shimer College Early Entrant Program in Waukegan.

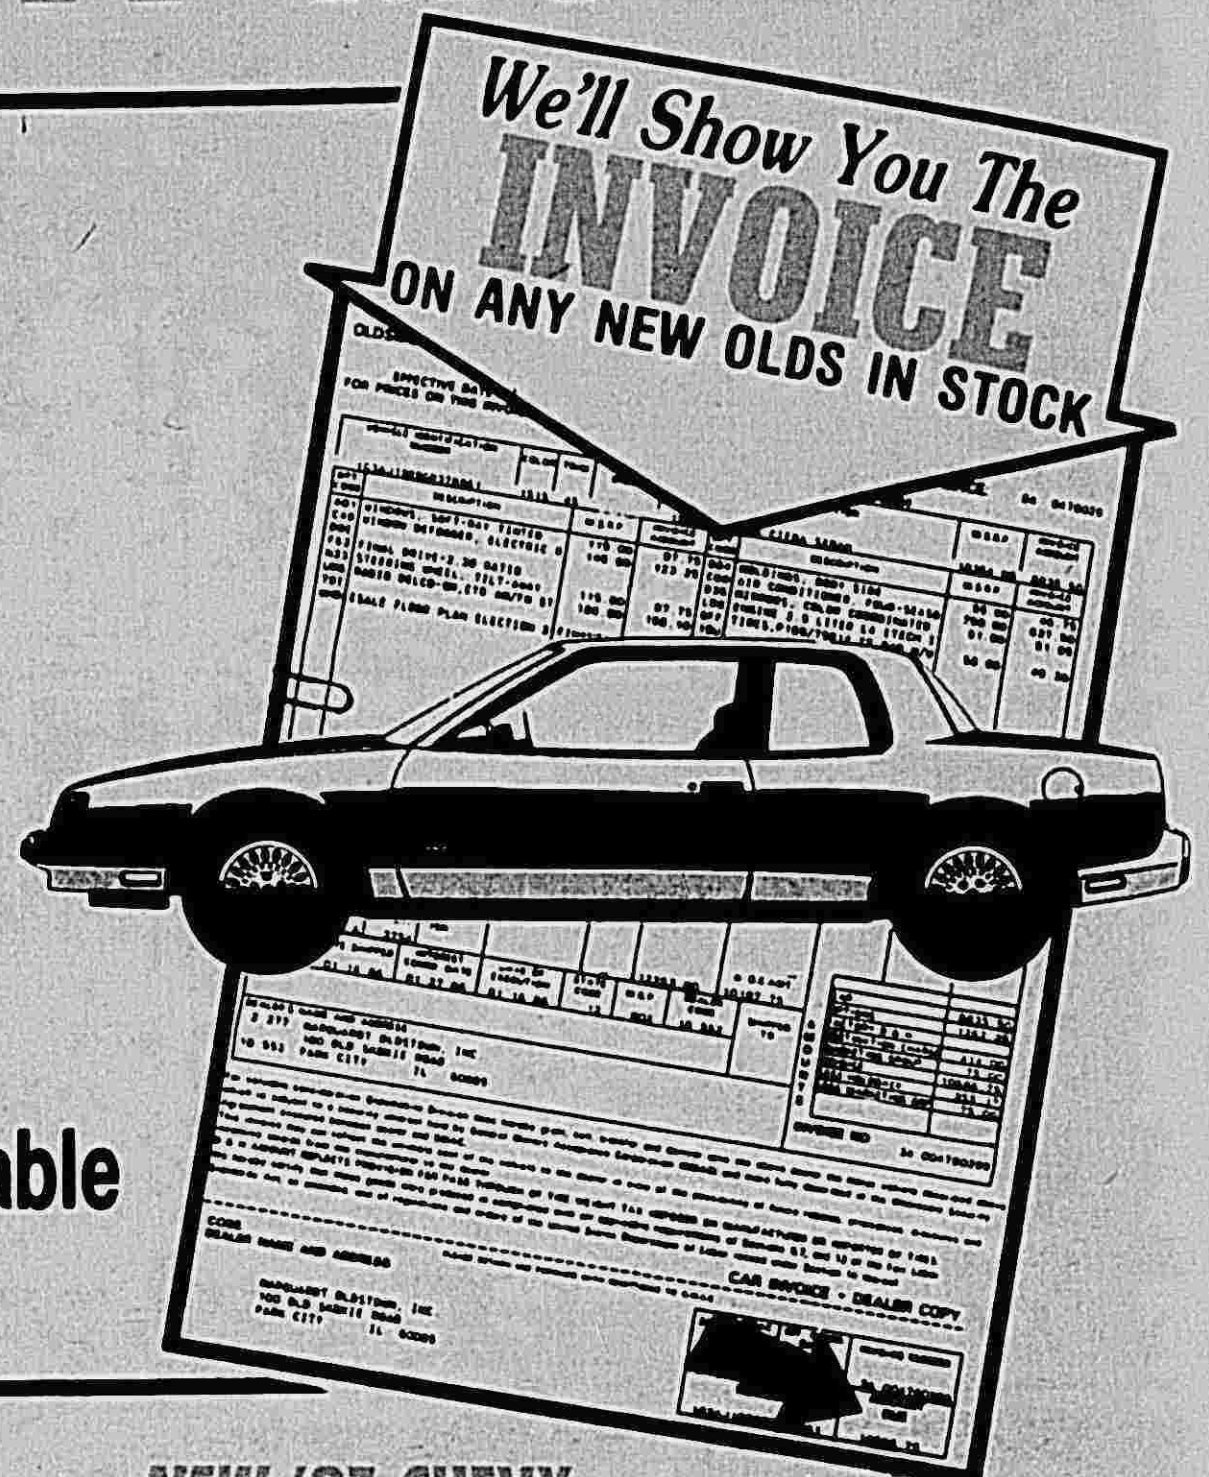

Shimer, a private liberal arts college, places a priority on the development of clarity in thought, speech and writing. Shimer considers for matriculation any student who has the potential for success and growth with a Shimer education. Motivation, willingness to learn, and intellectual curiosity are the most important qualifications, and Shimer awards its Early Entrants a Robert Maynard Hutchins Scholarship in recognition of their academic potential. The students accepted for Early Entrance take the same college level courses as all other students at the college, and receive a 12th-grade certificate after successful completion of 30 semester hours of credit courses (2 semesters.)

Now is the time for interested high school students to think seriously about the opportunity for entering college early in Spring or Fall of 1987. For information, call Bobbie Groth, director of admissions, Shimer College, (312)623-8400.

Old Teen Leadership Conference

Thursday, Nov. 20, the Lake County Fairgrounds will be bursting with enthusiasm. Over 300 students will participate in Lake County's second Teen Leadership Conference. Sponsored by a grant from Illinois Parents Too Soon Program to the Lake County Community Action Project, the conference is devised with hopes of giving positive alternatives to county teens. This year's conference planning board is represented by the following agencies: City of Waukegan, Family Services Agency, Illinois Dept. of Public Aid, Lake County Community Action Project, Lake County Court Services, Lake County Headstart, Lake County Health Dept.'s Family Planning Unit, Lake County Substance Abuse, Northern Illinois Council on Alcohol and Substance Abuse, People Against Crime and Drugs (PACD), Private Industry Council, Waukegan Park Dist. and the WINS program.

The workshops will include the following speakers: Tracy Raasch, Waukegan Police Dept. on life planning skills; Tony Lindsey from PACD on substance abuse; and Larney Jones from Evanston's Family Focus on teen sexuality.

Approximately 375 students participated in the all-day conference held last May. Members of the planning board are expecting students to report back to their advisors, teachers and other students with information obtained from the workshops. Teachers are encouraged to make use of all materials and information their students gather from these workshops.

Reschedule Loretta Lynn

The stage at the Genesee Theatre was in readiness, the lights were set, the staff of the theatre excited and eager for a really terrific show. But instead of gracing our fair city with her presence, Loretta Lynn underwent minor surgery and Oct. 26 seemed a very bleak day indeed.

Many disappointed fans and a harried theatre staff accepted the inevitable, signed and sent Miss Lynn a huge get-well banner and waited.

Now (hooray, hooray) after much negotiation, a new date has been set. On Sunday, April 26, 1987 at 2 and 7 p.m., the magic of country music with Loretta Lynn and the Coalminers will be in performance on the Genesee Theatre stage.

Tickets purchased for the October concert will be valid on April 26, and those wishing to purchase tickets may do so at the theatre box office, 205 N. Genesee St., Waukegan, or call (312) 336-0494.
